Davison Nabbed On Bad Check Charge

WITNESS IN LIQUOR QUIZ IS ARRESTED

Man Who Implicated Banks In Bootlegging Industry Taken in Alexandria, Va.

WANTED IN BAY CITY

Financial Institution Officers Insist They Have Not Aided Rum Runners

WASHINGTON, June 18.—William C. Davison, wanted by San Francisco police, was arrested this afternoon in Alexandria, Va., near here, after Washington detectives had trailed him there. Davison, "reformed bootlegger," had testified here before the house liquor committee that western banks were allied with bootleggers in wholesale liquor traffic. Davison, who is wanted on a back check charge, will be taken from Alexandria to California.

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—William C. Davison, alias Cain, who charged before a house investigating committee in Washington, D. C., that banks dabbled in the bootleg industry, will probably be returned to California to face a bad check charge and the ire of several California financial institutions named in his unsworn statements.

With the detective bureau in communication with the Washington police, officials of two large banks, with headquarters in San Francisco, today said that Davison's accusations against them were not only false but ridiculous.

Davison, self-styled "reformed bootlegger," appearing yesterday and the day before at the hearing of the house alcoholic traffic committee, declared that numerous western banks held in escrow the money for liquor sales, pending completion of deliveries.

Names Banking Firms

He named, among other institutions, the Bank of Italy, the Liberty bank, of San Francisco; the United States National bank, San Diego; the Northwestern bank, of Vancouver, B. C., and the Royal Bank of Canada.

The Liberty bank was the only one of the two San Francisco institutions which reported acquaintance with Davison.

"On March 10, 1923, Davison came into our bank with a depositor," said Frank M. Buckley, vice president and cashier of the Liberty bank.

"He had a check for $4,600, which the depositor indorsed.

"It developed that the check was fraudulent and bore a fictitious stamp of a Canadian bank. It later appeared, also, that the check was in some way connected with a liquor deal. The depositor was 'stuck' for the money and Davison was wanted on a warrant for arrest ever since."

Davison's return to California, if accomplished, will be in connection with this charge.

Arrest Is Ordered

The detective bureau reported having wired Washington police to arrest and hold Davison, pending further developments.

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Authorities were searching for 12-year-old June Hedquist, who disappeared Wednesday while enroute to school.

The girl, one of two heirs to a $50,000 fortune, had figured in a bitter court fight over her guardianship early this week.

She disappeared the day after a court order had been issued vacating her adoption by

Vanderbilt's Paper In Miami Quits

MIAMI, Fla., June 18.—A meeting this afternoon of those interested in the Miami Tab, Cornelius Vanderbilt's paper here, will decide the future of the paper, it is indicated today. The Tab was forced to suspend last night when the printers refused to work longer unless their accounts were settled. E. A. Inglis, receiver for the Tab, today advertised the equipment for sale, but said he could not announce definitely whether the paper would continue until late today.

EXPLORERS OF POLAR REGION ON WAY HOME

(By United Press)

NOME, Alaska, June 18.—Leaders of the Amundsen-Ellsworth trans-polar dirigible expedition were homeward bound today aboard the steamer Victoria, after a send-off the like of which Nome has never known.

Com. Roald Amundsen, Lincoln Ellsworth, Gen. Umberto Nobile and their men left with the best wishes of the city's residents, who have entertained them for the last month.

It was Nobile, however, whom Nome came to regard in the highest light. The brilliant Italian made friends of everyone in town through his simplicity.

Nobile said he would stop in Seattle two days, San Francisco four days, and then leave for New York, from which port he will sail for Rome on July 24. The airman said he was to direct delivery of a dirigible to Japan within three months. Just before he left, Nobile received a cablegram advising him he had been decorated with the Military Order of the Savior. "I am very proud," he said.

HERIOT WILL TRY TO FORM CABINET

PARIS, June 18.—Edouard Herriot, Radical-Socialist mayor of Lyons, today was invited to form a cabinet dedicated to the task of rescuing the franc from insolvency. Herriot accepted.

President Doumergue summoned Herriot to the Elysee palace, after Aristide Briand, who resigned this week, had acquainted the president with the fact that he could not form another cabinet.

Herriot is now president of the chamber of deputies, and from June 1924, to April, 1925, he was premier when it was revealed that his government had permitted the Bank of France to exceed the maximum legal note issue, thereby increasing the already great inflation of the franc.

He had a check for $4,600, which the depositor indorsed.

"It developed that the check was fraudulent and bore a fictitious stamp of a Canadian bank. It later appeared, also, that the check was in some way connected with a liquor deal. The depositor was 'stuck' for the money and Davison was wanted on a warrant for arrest ever since."

Davison's return to California, if accomplished, will be in connection with this charge.

Washington Crew Regatta Winner

LAKE CARNEGIE, N. J., June 18.—Washington university's crew made a clear sweep in the regatta with Princeton here this afternoon.

Yesterdays adding the mile and three-quarters by six lengths, after the junior varsity also had bested the Princeton junior crew.

"They (the banks) gave us the money on our moral obligation and the joint financial ability of Vernon Taylor of the committee, who is connected with the Mellon bank, and myself," said Wood.

"You mean the Mellon banks made these political loans?" asked Reed.

"No, they knew we were good for them. At that time we didn't have many contributions."

"Whom did you see in the Mellon bank?" Reed asked.

"E. V. Babcock, a very good friend of mine."

"Who did he say was going to underwrite this campaign?"

"He didn't say anyone was."

"Can you tell me the total amount given to your committee by the Mellons?"

"I think W. L. Mellon gave $18,000 and R. B. Mellon $25,000."

BIG EXPENSE IN CAMPAIGN IS CONFUSING

Even Senator Reed Puzzled by Complication in Election Fund Accounts

MELLON BANKS ASSIST

Committee Chairman Tells Of Loans and Contributions in Keystone State

WASHINGTON, June 18.—An alleged forged letter signed with the name of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in-dorsing John S. Fisher, gubernatorial candidate on the ticket with George Wharton Pepper in the Pennsylvania senatorial primary, occupied the senate investigating committee this afternoon.

Vernon F. Taylor, treasurer of Pepper campaign committee, told the investigators that the Green endorsement printed in Pittsburgh papers through Pepper publicity headquarters, evidently was forged.

Taylor charged that he had been told by a man named McGrey, whom he could not identify, that a William Tunstall, of Tyrone, Pa., had written a letter in which the text was similar to the Green letter.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—A charge that the Pepper-Fisher report of campaign expenditures in Pennsylvania—known to approximate a million and a quarter dollars—was "confusing," was made by Chairman Reed, of the senate primary investigating committee, today.

Reed said the accounts had been so complicated that it was difficult to ascertain exactly how much was spent.

The chairman called upon Eric Fisher Wood, chairman of the western state campaign committee, to straighten out obvious duplications so that the committee would know what was spent.

The committee had received to-day copies of full expenses as filed at Harrisburg.

Testifies on Mellon Aid

The Mellon family and their Pittsburgh banks donated and loaned $149,000 to the Pepper-Fisher campaign, Wood told the committee.

Wood testified that the Union Trust company and the Mellon National bank, of Pittsburgh, advanced $75,000 to his committee in unsecured loans which had not yet been repaid.

W. L. Mellon gave about $24,000 in all; A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, $25,000, and R. B. Mellon, $25,000, the witness, or previous witnesses, have said.

The committee had received to-day copies of full expenses as filed at Harrisburg.

2 Die When Train Plunges In River

SPOKANE, Wn., June 18.—Engine Arthur J. True was killed and a fireman, named Hawkins, was seriously injured, when a Great Northern fruit special, east bound from Centralia, Wn., plunged from the track into the Kootenai river, near Bonners Ferry, Ida., last night. Twenty thousand dollars' worth of cherries and strawberries were strewn in the river.

The testimony also brought the now known total cost of the Vare-Pepper-Pinchot Republican senatorial race to approximately $2,194,639.

Committee Expense $200,618

By intricate mathematical deductions, the committee estimated the total expenses of the Wood committee at $200,618.

"They (the banks) gave us the money on our moral obligation and the joint financial ability of Vernon Taylor of the committee, who is connected with the Mellon bank, and myself," said Wood.

"You mean the Mellon banks made these political loans?" asked Reed.

"No, they knew we were good for them. At that time we didn't have many contributions."

"Whom did you see in the Mellon bank?" Reed asked.

"E. V. Babcock, a very good friend of mine."

"Who did he say was going to underwrite this campaign?"

"He didn't say anyone was."

"Can you tell me the total amount given to your committee by the Mellons?"

Congress to Adjourn On June 30

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Congress will adjourn June 30 for the summer recess, under an agreement reached today between senate and house leaders. The senate will return November 10, to consider the impeachment case of Judge George W. English, of Illinois, under a special order. It has not yet been decided whether the house will return at that time.

29 AWARDED DIPLOMAS BY JR. COLLEGE

Dr. W. C. Morgan Delivers Address to Graduates at Annual Commencement

DO IT NOW, IS THEME

Speaker Tells Class to Act Today and Not Wait For Future Opportunity

WHILE THE 29 graduates of the Santa Ana junior college class of 1926 were today at "the parting of the ways," they carried from their alma mater, along with their diplomas awarded last night in the 10th annual commencement exercises, a goal set not for tomorrow's illusive opportunities, but for today's ready openings.

At 4:30 o'clock this morning, an automobile bearing Frank Koster, 28, and his brother, John, 30, shot out from a blind approach on to the Southern Pacific main line tracks inside San Jose's city limits. It was struck and demolished by Southern Pacific passenger train No. 30, bound for Del Monte, and the debris, with the mangled bodies of the two men, was carried 200 feet.

There can be no tomorrow," declared Dr. Morgan. The address might aptly be summed up in Lord Chesterfield's famous advice, "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today."

Success Comes Today

"If you ever wish to accomplish a worth while project, you must accomplish it today; if you are to succeed, you must succeed today," he said.

The getting-by process was branded dangerous. Attempts at it result in the operation of the law of survival and victims trapped become chained to a world existence, the speaker asserted. Man's superiority is due to his brain power. Below the eyebrows, he is worth about three dollars for daily manual labor, but above the eyebrows, his value is inestimable, the graduates were told.

The engineer, Arthur Bullard, said that both he and the fireman had been unable to jump from the locomotive when it crashed to its side. Both narrowly escaped death.

The train crew reported that the accident was unavoidable. It took place at an intersection where large buildings almost completely obscure sight of the railroad tracks from the vehicle.

The accident was the second in the 11-hour period in which all three occurred.

Youth Killed by Train

In the first accident, Lawrence Hawes, 19, was killed instantly when his automobile was struck by train No. 11, Shore Line Limited of the Southern Pacific.

The third accident, late this morning, brought death to George Jackson, about 50, employed on a morning newspaper. He was killed four miles south of San Jose when his machine was struck by Southern Pacific train No. 32.

Wreckage on the Southern Pacific tracks where the locomotive and cars were derailed had not been cleared at a late hour today. A siding enabled trains to maintain schedules.

The evidence was brought out by Chairman Reed of the committee in an effort to establish whether the Mellon family "underwrote" the west state campaign, which, with Wood's new evidence, is known to have cost $1,273,945.

The testimony also brought the now known total cost of the Vare-Pepper-Pinchot Republican senatorial race to approximately $2,194,639.

ALHAMBRA PAIR HAS HECTIC EXPERIENCES IN EFFORTS TO BECOME UNITED IN MARRIAGE

A bad beginning makes a good ending, according to an old saw. Walter McLean and his bride, formerly Mary Stevens, both of Alhambra, are hoping that there is more truth than poetry in the old saying, after a group of hectic experiences yesterday and last night.

The blushing pair secured a marriage license in Santa Ana yesterday and returned to Alhambra to be married. The Rev. Harry W. White, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church there, was all ready to marry the couple, when he discovered that the license had been issued in Orange county. Being of a resourceful type, he immediately loaded the bridal pair into his own machine and drove to the viaduct, which marks the Orange county line.

Under Arch Lamp.

The bridal party halted under an arch lamp and the ceremony got under way. But an interruption occurred in the person of a driver of a flivver, who inquired if there had been an accident. The motorist was assured that no one had been hurt as yet and the service started once again. But this particular road is traveled considerably and before the minister had got very far, several other machines drove up. Loud honking of horns convinced the interested parties that a traffic jam was occurring, so once more the bridal pair and the pastor got into the machine. This time they made for the Methodist church in Fullerton.

By Match Light.

Arriving there, it was discovered that the pastor of the church already had retired for the night. However, he threw the key to the church to the Alhambra pastor and the party proceeded to the church. Inside the edifice it was dark and no one could find the light switch. The ceremony proceeded a little further on by the light of matches—until the bridegroom's matches gave out. There being nothing else to do, the deputation returned to the Fullerton minister's house and got him out of bed and into a few clothes and brought him back to find the lights.

The next interruption came when the janitor, under the impression that burglars had broken into the church, arrived on the scene. Assured that the unexpected visitors did not have designs on church property but merely wanted to get married, he became an interested onlooker.

By 1 a. m., the newlyweds were back in Alhambra, where a wedding breakfast was served.

"I got an Orange county license so as to keep it out of the Los Angeles and Alhambra papers," said McLean this morning. "You see, it was to have been a surprise for our friends. It was, too."

The old god Janus was two-faced, looking both forward and backward. May I be your Janus for this evening?

"As you may know, I am a scientist. I study an exact science, chemistry. We know the facts and we must accept them. A fact is not subject to bribes, threats or force. It is not a matter of opinion. One man may say he doesn't believe in electricity. Another says he does. If they both touch the same live wire, however, each will be thrown just as far.

"Let us face the facts of education. You have spent about 15 years in schools and you have the prospect of spending from two to six more. Why spend this time? Many may say because others are doing it. That is to show 'nuttiness.' It is following blindly as sheep. Because others spend that time, is no reason for me to do so.

Man Slow to Maturity

"We find that the human being is the longest animal in reaching physical maturity. For most animals, the period is of one or two years. Man reaches maturity at about 16 years. During that time, it is owed the individual to keep him in school. After that, another reason for education must be advanced. At 16 years, man does not reach his mental maturity. It is true, but he is able to shift for himself.

"Beyond that, the reason for education is that the untrained individual is likely to make mistakes. Youth is impatient. By thrusting out into life, mistakes occur. Among animals, it is only the rabbit that doesn't make a mistake that survives. The first rabbit into a fox that has succeeded in avoiding mistakes.

"You may say that civilization will remove the danger of being eliminated. But civilization will cause individuals to be trapped and put to work. You have never seen it done? It arises constantly in the simple cases of being put to work in order to eat.

Man Must Accomplish Most

"Man, because of his slow pace in reaching maturity, must accomplish more than other animals. He is not satisfied with food and shelter. This proposition of accomplishment justifies education. Other things being equal, the college educated man has the advantage in the world. But you can't send a calf or a donkey to school and expect an educated individual. In order to make education pay, the individual must be worth while."

"We must consider many phases. Out in the shop, you are taught the use of tools, but every cabinet maker is a self-made man. Practice with the tools is essential. Some may say to wait for tomorrow to do a fine piece of work. That won't do. Unless the best is done constantly and the fullest enthusiasm and energy is involved, the order will not be realized.

"If you ever wish to accomplish a worth while project, you must accomplish it today; if you are to succeed, you must succeed today. There can be no tomorrow.

Untrained Can't Win

"The untrained man cannot win.

village sheik is strictly up to date and then some. The automobile, the movies, the radio, cheap newspapers and magazines, good roads, prosperity and sophistication have standardized us all. Perhaps it would have been better if we could have retained more individualism. But anyhow, no one group of us can now find another group different enough to think it funny.

SAN DIEGO BANKER

COMMENTS ON CHARGES

SAN DIEGO, June 18.—"Never heard of him or of the transaction," was the statement of M. N. Wilson, assistant cashier of the United States National bank here today, in commenting on charges of William C. Davison, alias Cain, before the house committee on the alcoholic liquor traffic in Washington.

Davison's story, which alleged that the local bank was one of several in California which held cash or checks in connection with the purchase and sale of whiskey, was officially denied by officials of the bank at the time Davison alleged the transaction took place.

The bank's message to Washington said in part:

"We know nothing of the transactions referred to and they are so palpably false that, were the testimony not given before the house committee, we would not dignify it by refutation. We have never heard of this person."

Market Higher On Butterflies' Eggs

LONDON, June 18.—Butterfly eggs have taken a boost in price, because of later spring rains, which interfered with their incubation.

W. L. Newman, the only moth butterfly farmer in England, who sometimes fills orders for 20,000 specimens, had a busy season at his farm near Bexley as the demand for his produce this spring has exceeded the supply.

Newman, who turned a hobby into a profession, was originally employed in a London tobacco shop, devoting spare time to collecting and breeding. Thirty years ago he started his Bexley farm, after searching the British Isles for the 68 specimens of butterflies and the 840 specimens of moth that may be labelled British.

Moth and butterfly collecting and rearing as a hobby is becoming increasingly popular among the younger generation. "Women especially are fond of seeing things grow, and for that reason they prefer to buy the eggs of Lepidoptera rather than specimens," says Newman, who attributes the growth of the hobby to the natural history lessons in the schools.

SCRIBE FREED OF RUM CHARGE
BY BEACH JURY

Jackson J. Parks, free lance newspaperman, of San Francisco and Los Angeles, was found not guilty of a charge of being intoxicated by a jury of prominent persons yesterday afternoon in Laguna Beach. Parks was arrested May 29, by Deputy Sheriffs Jimmie Smith and Mozley, at a benefit dance, given by the Laguna library board.

Parks' acquittal was returned after a deliberation of less than two minutes by the jury. Dr.
R. A. Cushman and J. J. Roberts,
jailer in the Orange county jail,
testified that Parks was intoxicated. Prominent persons of Laguna Beach, including Foster
Elliot, president of the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce;
Mrs. Foster Elliot, George E.
Thompson, Mrs. A. B. Marshall,
Paul Nonan and Earl Hofer, testified in behalf of the newspaperman, who pleaded his own case.
Several of those who testified were members of the library board, who were fostering the dance.

The jury included "Gavy" Cravath, former home-run king of major league baseball; Miss Liliette Perine, Mary C. Whitcomb,
D. F. Godard, Mrs. E. H. Hagg-throp, W. H. T. Goddard, John Bushman and R. S. Wood.

The case was heard before
Judge L. V. Murphy, of Laguna Beach. Kenneth Burns was the prosecuting attorney.

Charles F. Lowy, representing the labor commission, disputed the ability of Garber to raise funds for paying the wage claim. Tarver had stated that Garber's wage claim was involved in mortgages and trust deeds to the full value of his equity and that he had turned his brick yard over to his former attorney, A. E. Koep-sel, to be operated on a royalty basis, but that so far there had been no royalties for Garber.

Judge Marks took the appeal
under advisement.

BERLIN, June 18.—There are more women representatives in the German reichstag than in any other elective parliament in the world.
of the 493 members, 33 are women,
many of whom hold important committee assignments. The Communist party has even elected women floor leaders.

Though the economic, business and professional standing of the women in Germany is probably less favorable than in other large powers, they have attained virtual parity with men in politics.

There are 41 women in the Prussian Landtag and 71 in other state legislative bodies. Numerous important posts in the ministries of various states are held by women.

Little Lad Enjoys Party on Fifth Birthday

ASTER BRENT WAHLBERG, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wahlberg, was happy host to a group of his playmates recently in celebration of his fifth birthday.

Quite a group of mothers accompanied their small people to Brent's home at 619 South Broadway, and shared Mrs. Wahlberg's enjoyment of the games and pleasures of the children. The pretty garden at the rear of the home, was an ideal spot in which to play drop the handkerchief, black man and other favorite games, including an exciting peanut hunt which yielded pretty horns to Roberta Horton and Marilyn Wheadon.

When games finally began to pall, the children were bidden to the dining-room where one long table was adorned with many lovely flowers mostly in pink and white to harmonize with the cunning little nut-cups filled with candy and salted nuts at each place. The big white birthday cake also bore five pink candles which Brent blew out before it was cut to be served with ice cream.

Then there were all manner of delicious cookies in various forms, that had been made for the occasion by Mrs. Florence Hawkinson, one of the birthday laddie's firm friends. Favors of gay balloons and cricket snappers were at each place to add to the fun, and Master Brent was showered with many pretty gifts from his playmates.

Sharing Mrs. Wahlberg's pleasure were Mrs. Hawkinson, Mrs. Raymond Ellis, Mrs. E. D. Boyson, Mrs. Carl Henke, of San Juan Capistrano, and Mrs. E. T. Wheadon of Gardena while the children included in addition to Master Brent and his small brother Robert and cousin Renette Hansen, Roberta Horton, Billie Lacy, Nancy White, Muriel Hallman, Clessa Burke, Peggy and Robert Ellis, Mary Elene and Eleanor Henke, Ruth Waterhouse, Spencer Browning, Louise Browning, Katherine Mather, Marilyn Wheadon, Robert Boyson and Constance Block.

RED DIAMOND OF BIG VALUE FOUND

LONDON, June 18.—The rare find of a red diamond of considerable value is reported from Kimberley, South Africa. It was found in the alluvial river diggings. This species of stone is very unusual and is likely to fetch anything from 120 to 150 pounds sterling a carat.

The cutting of the stone has been placed in the hands of a London firm and, although the accomplishment has proved of some difficulty, the result will be that a flawless stone of about six carats will be produced.

The gem, at first glance, might be taken by the uninitiated to be a ruby of gigantic proportions, as it is an entirely red stone, without a blemish of any kind. Closer inspection, however, reveals that it possesses all the requisite properties of the true diamond, the grain being absolutely similar.

Beans Scarce In Troopers' Diet

SACRAMENTO, June 18.—Beans, without which few soldiers would dare lead their soldiers into battle, will be slighted, belittled and almost ostracized at the California National Guard encampments scheduled to begin July 10 and continue to September 18.

This was divulged in a communiqué issued here by Adj't Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt.

In a list of supplies purchased for the five summer training camps to be held near Del Monte in the north and Los Angeles in the south, the adjutant general revealed that only one ounce of beans per man per day will appear upon the mess tables. This amounts to one-third of an ounce of beans per meal, a quantity which most soldiers would regard too small for use even as seasoning.

Other supplies provided for the camps include 6000 dozen eggs, 50,000 pounds of potatoes, 33,000 pounds of bread, 40,000 pounds of meat, 2700 pounds of butter, 5000 pounds of coffee, 4000 pounds of onions and 35,000 gallons of gasoline for tanks, trucks, airplanes and automobiles.

More than 5000 men are expected to attend the camps, each man receiving two weeks' training.

Week-end Calendar At Parkridge

Promising great charm and much friendliness is the sport dinner dance to be held tomorrow night at the Parkridge country club, near Corona. And to complete a jolly week end will be the rodeo to be held by the riding academy on Sunday.

At the rodeo will be two well known celebrities of the riding world, Art Schriever, champion Roman rider, and Raymond Warren, cowboy aviator. The rest of the entrants will be made up of local horsemen among whom are many good riders.

Features of the rodeo will be riding of broncos, racing, lassoing of goats and Roman races.

COULD NOT PUT ON HER SHOES

Mrs. Daugherty Was so Weak

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Idly she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ED. DAUGHERTY, 1308 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

Grelg's "Watchman's Song" played very nicely by Billy Beebe. Edgar Pankey read "She Powdered Her Nose" (Guest) and Margaret Finley amused with "Myself" by the same author. Richard Nixon read "Menagerie Diet" and Geraldine Gilbert chose "Why," both being done in splendid manner.

"Tony Pleads to Petit Larceny" was presented in a most finished manner by young Norma Tantlinger, followed by an exceptionally pleasing rendering of a Paderewski "Minuet" by Eugenia Gilbert. Hugh Plumb's "The Water-mill" was another Negro dialect number.

Frances Bowman gave an interesting Italian dialect number, "Mia Carlotta" and Opal Moore read Joyce Kilmer's "Trees" with much expression. Master Bobby Pankey, youngest of the group, gave "When We Haven't Said Our Prayers" and Peter Plumb followed with "Bedfellows."

The second part of the program opened with music by the Toy

Symphony followed by the dainty colonial costume play, "The Minstrel" by Dorothy Haddox. The dance was especially pretty, the characters being as follows: "Betty Wingate," Margaret Finley; "Mrs. Abigail Bainbridge," Norma Tantlinger; "John Bainbridge," Billy Beeman; "Edward Fitzpatrick," James Decker.

Orchestra music again from the little players and then "Whim-Wham" was given. Frances Bowman was a dainty "Queen Whim-Wham" while Billy Beeman and Norma Tantlinger were Lord and Lady Twiddlewinks. Very dignified ladies-in-waiting were played by Opal Moore, Geraldine Gilbert and Marian Brannon while red and gray garbed pages were Arthur and Richard Nixon, Hugh Plumb and Bobby Pankey. Mortal children were Margaret Finley and Peter Plumb and the drummer was Jack McCarty.

The idea of plays given entirely by children, with an orchestra of quite as small people, in the same manner that dwellers in Grown-up Land have their amusements, was novel and delightful.

and the directors of the two enterprises, were highly complimented by the scores of delightful guests. The children of Miss Haughton's Toy Symphony are Vivian Westbrook, Asa Hoffman, Donald Lentz, Mary-Anne Deaver, Virginia Congdon, Marian Doty, Jack McCarty, Geraldine Gilbert, Evelyn Brannon, Bethel Dickinson, Mary Majors, Marguerite Scott, Ruby Moore and Nellie Cribaro. The members play from the score exactly as does an adult symphony, with one of their number at the piano.

Gay Bridge Breakfast
Is Given to Honor
Miss Preston

BRIDGE breakfast was the happy manner in which Miss Velma Moore chose to compliment her friend, Miss Marian Preston, fiancee of William Noble, as one of the many courtesies extended her during the betrothal period and preceding the announced wedding date of June 26.

Miss Moore asked her guests for a 9 o'clock breakfast for which the Moore home at 102 South Birch street, was decked with quantities of summer flowers including delphinium and tall stalks of gladioli in yellow and orange tints. Breakfast tables were arranged with pretty doilies and many silver candlesticks containing yellow candles. Yellow posies adorned the cards by which the guests sought their places and which later served as tally cards at bridge. A delicious two-course breakfast was served by the hostess who was assisted in all her pleasant duties by her mother and sisters, Mrs. F. E. Moore and the Misses Inez and Lorene Moore.

In the exciting bridge session which consumed the remainder of the forenoon, Miss Moore awarded a dainty guest-room set of water bottle and glass to Mrs. Verne Williams, scoring high and an amusing book, "How to Play Bridge," which everyone wanted to read, to Miss Elizabeth Scott as consolation. When the prizes were presented, opportunity was seized to bring in a big dish-pan filled with kitchen articles, which the guests had selected for Miss Preston, the honoree.

Enjoying the hospitality of Miss Moore in addition to her honor guest, Miss Preston and her mother, Mrs. Frank Preston, together with her own mother and sisters, Mrs. F. E. Moore and the Misses Inez and Lorene Moore, were the Misses Thelma Artz, Lillian Van Osdale, Elizabeth Scott, Mildred Whitson, Irene Natland, Aletha Jones, Boyd Joplin, Louise Bryant, Verna Bell Bryan, Jean Ross, Helen Battley, Frances Battey, Dorothy Dresser and Mrs. Verne Williams.

Pretty Party Reveals
Plans for Wedding
In Late July

BRIDEGROOM was the happy manner in which Miss Velma Moore chose to compliment her friend, Miss Marian Preston, fiancee of William Noble, as one of the many courtesies extended her during the betrothal period and preceding the announced wedding date of June 26.

Miss Moore asked her guests for a 9 o'clock breakfast for which the Moore home at 102 South Birch street, was decked with quantities of summer flowers including delphinium and tall stalks of gladioli in yellow and orange tints. Breakfast tables were arranged with pretty doilies and many silver candlesticks containing yellow candles. Yellow posies adorned the cards by which the guests sought their places and which later served as tally cards at bridge. A delicious two-course breakfast was served by the hostess who was assisted in all her pleasant duties by her mother and sisters, Mrs. F. E. Moore and the Misses Inez and Lorene Moore.

After the bridge session, the tables were made attractive with dainty linens and centered with sweet posies from which pink ribbons led to each nut cup, also in pink and white, and surmounted with wee wedding bells. When the guests drew the ribbons, they found that tiny gold-edged envelopes and been secreted in the baskets and the cards which contained bore the names of Miss Tulene and Mr. Ozman and the July wedding date.

All sorts of happy questions and good wishes for the honoree, accompanied the enjoyment of dainty individual cakes in appropriate heart and diamond forms and iced in rose, ice cream molded as turtles, doves, coffee and salted almonds.

Enjoying the pleasant afternoon and the privilege of being the first to learn the betrothal news, were Mrs. E. A. Heffner and Miss Maude Heffner, Los Angeles; Mrs. L. J. Heffner, Anaheim; Mesdames Anna Hoffman, E. W. Boynton, J. W. Allen, A. C. Tulene, A. Harley, Gene Thomas (Irene Stewart), J. W. Tulene, mother of the honoree, and the Misses Gertrude Heesch, Gertrude Probst and Agnes Shanbaugh.

Those enjoying the pleasant evening in addition to the honoree, Miss Carothers, won a charming flower bowl as first prize while her sister, Miss Margaret Carothers, received first prize of an attractive picture in another. When the gifts were awarded, the hostesses also carried in a large clothes-basket adorned with lavender and yellow chiffon bows and filled with attractive articles for use in the new home so soon to be established.

Those enjoying the pleasant evening in addition to the honoree, Miss Carothers, won a charming flower bowl as first prize while her sister, Miss Margaret Carothers, received first prize of an attractive picture in another. When the gifts were awarded, the hostesses also carried in a large clothes-basket adorned with lavender and yellow chiffon bows and filled with attractive articles for use in the new home so soon to be established.

The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was a beautiful garden function at the bride's father's home, 126 East Maple avenue, Fullerton. It was preceded by vocal solos, "I Love You Truly" and "Because," sung by Miss Alleen Rohrer accompanied by Miss Frances Schultz who remained at the piano to play the wedding march from Lohengrin to which the young people entered the garden.

Each passed through an archway of roses at opposite sides of the garden, to meet at the beautiful rose bower where the bride's uncle, the Rev. J. H. Hutchins, pastor of Lake Avenue Congregational church, Pasadena, was awaiting them. Miss Stephens was gowned in white silk crepe, awaiting them. Miss Stephens was gowned in white silk crepe, lace trimmed, and wore a long veil of tulle falling from a chandelier of orange blossoms. Her flowers were orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Gertrude Stephens, attended her as bridesmaid and wore rose silk crepe with which she carried orchid sweet peas. Dainty wee Jean Wilshire, the flower girl, in a ruffled pink frock, carried rose petals in a pale blue basket, and preceded the bride, while Master Perry Turner, in white, was ring bearer.

Mr. Salter was assisted by his brother, Henry Salter, as best man. The young people met at the rose bower where the double ring ceremony was read impressively by the Rev. Mr. Hutchins. A reception followed with Miss Frances Stephens as hostess and the relatives and more intimate friends as wedding and reception guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Salter will spend a two-weeks honeymoon in the north and upon their return will greet their friends at their home in Buena Park. Mrs. Salter traveled in a blue sports suit with hat to harmonize. Both young people are alumni of Fullerton union high school. Mr. Salter followed with a course at Chaffee junior college while Miss Stephens took her junior college work at Fullerton, later studying at U.S.C.

She has been a valued member of the First M. E. choir in her home city, and yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock, 28 of the members serenaded her with the Bridal Chorus from the Rose Maiden, with violin and flute accompaniment.

EDUCATIONAL CIRCLES HERE ARE INTERESTED IN SCHOOL CO-OPERATIVE SELF SURVEY

Followed with much interest in Santa Ana educational centers and Parent-Teacher circles is a co-operative self survey, inaugurated several years ago by the Santa Monica city schools and designed to acquaint not only teaching forces but the general public as well, particularly parents, with conditions as they exist in the schools.

This self-survey, according to R. P. Mitchell, Orange county superintendent of schools, differs from the traditional type of survey in that it is made by members of the various faculties instead of outside experts. Moreover, it is made during the school year and co-related with practical problems of regular work. Stimulates interest.

Another advantage of the Santa Monica plan is that the making and publication of such a survey stimulates interest in school affairs on the part of the general public.

Following are some of the subjects covered by the survey, classified under various headings:

Community needs—Wealth of the community, how it is spent. Educational facilities, including public schools, private schools, libraries, newspapers, clubs, churches and organizations.

Organization and administration of the schools—The legal status of the district, administrative organization, the school board, the superintendent, the superintendent's staff.

Financial and Business.

Financial and business management—School funds, their sources, extent and dependability, expenditures compared with needs, accounting of funds, budgeting, units of cost and business management.

Buildings and facilities of school plants—Having relation to adequacy of structures, number of classrooms, service systems, proposed expansion, sanitary conditions, fire protection and kindred matters.

Teaching staff—Legal requirements, local requirements, size of staff, sex, training, experience, tenure, salaries, teaching load.

Other matters taken up under various sub-heads are records and reports, classification and grading of the pupils, curriculum, attendance, retardation and acceleration, transient school population and health work.

The Best None Too Good

"After many years of stomach suffering I have at last found a medicine for that trouble. But believe me it was a timely find. I couldn't have lasted a great while longer. My stomach would bloat with gas like a barrel and the colics got to be awful. Medicine didn't help much until I got hold of MYRS, which did the trick. I am telling everyone about it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Z. B. WEST Jr.

To The Voters of Orange County

I am a candidate for district attorney of Orange County at the primary election on August 31st. The electorate is entitled to know my qualifications for office.

I was born in Santa Ana, May 20, 1894. I received all of my public and high school education in Santa Ana, graduating from Santa Ana High School in 1913. I graduated from Stanford University in 1917.

Immediately upon graduation I entered the U. S. Army, serving throughout the entire war both at home and abroad, being honorably discharged in September, 1919.

I then returned to Stanford and completed the law course.

In 1920 I entered the practice of law.

In April, 1923, the voters of Santa Ana honored me by electing me their City Attorney, and I trust that I have done credit to that position. I have successfully completed over 100 street proceedings in the city during my term of office involving almost $2,000,000. I have successfully defended the city in all litigation without assistance or additional expense on the part of the city. There have been 161 convictions of violations of the liquor laws during my term of office.

I have endeavored to correctly and conscientiously advise the city council and other offices on all questions of municipal law.

I am in favor of the enforcement of all laws.

I am running on my record.

If elected I pledge myself:

To conscientiously administer the duties of my office, and advise the Board of Supervisors on matters of law.

To fairly and fearlessly investigate all complaints, and if the investigation warrants to prosecute to the fullest extent.

To give my time and efforts to the people of Orange county.

Respectfully,

Z. B. WEST, Jr.

BURON FITTS WILL TALK AT CHAMBER MEET

An attractive program, to be featured by an address by Buron Fitts, chief criminal attorney, Los Angeles county, will be presented at the meeting, Monday night, in St. Ann's Inn, of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, according to Jesse Elliott, chairman of the entertainment committee. The meeting will begin at 6:30.

Members of the American Legion from all of the Orange county posts have been issued a special invitation to attend the meeting and hear the address by Fitts, former Legion department commander. The prosecutor is declared to be a forceful speaker with a message for all citizens.

Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, contralto, will sing several selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Elliott said that an effort was being made today to secure talent from the Hollywood motion picture studios to assist with the program. A capacity crowd is expected to attend.

A number of important matters are to be taken up in the business meeting after the entertainment, Mason Yould, president of the junior division, declared.

NOTORIETY AND FAME REVEALED IN CLASS WILL

What fame and notoriety is to be achieved by the members of the senior graduating class of Santa Ana polytechnic high school was disclosed in the prophecy, given yesterday in the Class day exercises, in the school auditorium.

Asphalt arabs and winsome she-babes of today were the reformers of tomorrow, agitating a movement to prevent teachers from "killing flies during school hours."

Idiosyncrasies of the students were the butts of many jests.

At the opening of the program, the seniors marched into the auditorium while the high school band played. Musical entertainment was furnished by a trio of vocalists, the Misses Lorene Matney, Mary Piper and Marie McDonald. Howard Youel sang. A saxophone trio, composed of Harold Fish, Clayton Lowell and Orest Clafon, played. Raymond Hutchins played a trumpet solo.

The feature of the program was the prophecy. The future of the seniors was unfolded as news events came in the office of "The Daily Squeak." Miss Mydas Capps was city editor and staff members were Oscar Area, Lois Green, Howard Youel, Lohr Bauer, Cleo Chambliss and Lillian Odisho.

A scene in a courtroom was arranged for contesting the will of the senior class. Willard White was judge and Melvin Harter and David Roberts were attorneys.

Miss Chaima Lindsey gave an interpretive dance.

The presentation of the class gift, a trophy cabinet, to the school, was made by Miss Evelyn Yount, president of the senior class. At the close, the seniors sang their class song and were led in a yell by Ed Perry.

Deputy Sheriffs Jimmie Smith and Jack Combs and State Motorcycle Officer Pat Hurd last night lodged Tony Grijalva, 36, of 1801 West Second street, Santa Ana, in the Orange county jail, following a hurried trip to Bristol street, where they were informed that the man was drowning under his car, which had overturned in a drainage ditch. Grijalva was in an alleged intoxicated condition when looked at the county jail. Officers were unable to find any trace of a person under a car, which was removed from the ditch.

Obituary

Mrs. Edith B. Braasch, wife of Louis Braasch, was laid to rest yesterday in Fairhaven cemetery. The funeral services were held in the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors at 3:30 p. m. A large number of friends, in addition to the immediate family, were present to show their appreciation of and affection for the beautiful life of the deceased. Mrs. Braasch was known for her friendliness and generosity. She was quiet and retiring and, at the same time, cordial and easily approached. To know her at all was to know her well.

The services were conducted by Rev. William Everett Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Robert L. Brown, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong, sang two beautiful hymns, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," and "The City Four-Square."

Dr. Roberts, after commenting on the personal qualities of Mrs. Braasch, spoke of the comfort to be derived from the words of Jesus to His disciples on the last night of His life, "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in Me." The minister emphasized the fact that while our earthly friends must necessarily depart, there is a friend who never leaves us. He is ever ready to sustain us by His presence in our time of need.

Mrs. Braasch was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Tigges, of Peterson, Ia. She had been a resident of this vicinity since 1919.

Starting with only two cows, Mrs. Marie J. King now has a herd of 100 blooded cattle and is clearing $500 a month from her dairy farm near Salmon, Idaho.

Court Notes

A contest between Dr. Wilfred J. Lawrie, of Anaheim, and his step-daughter, Bertha Dozier, in connection with rights to property left by the late Henrietta Lawrie, wife of Dr. Lawrie, was partially heard yesterday in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court. The hearing was continued to July 15. Dr. Lawrie, an executor of the estate, contends that residence and automobile, which formed a portion of the estate, was community property, while the daughter holds that it was separate property of her mother. Attorneys in the case stated that a sum of about $1200 is involved in the contest.

The plaintiff seeks recovery of the car or $600 cash. DeLorm claims that there is a balance of $314 due on the car. He tendered that sum to the plaintiff in court yesterday, but it was refused. ## MORE THAN THIRTY MILLION BARRELS OF OIL TAKEN FROM COUNTY WELLS DURING 1925

Orange county's 979 oil wells, located on 6186 acres of assessable and improved oil lands, produced, in 1925, 30,073,959 barrels of oil and 11,162,240,000 cubic feet of natural gas, according to a compilation of oil statistics for 1925, prepared by the state mineralogist and made public today.

Only Kern and Los Angeles counties exceeded Orange county in oil and gas production, the statistics reveal.

Commenting on oil production and assessment against the product for maintenance of the department of petroleum and gas of the state mining bureau for the current year, the weekly bulletin of the department says:

Will Levy Tax

"According to estimates prepared by the state mineralogist, in conjunction with the state board of control, on the first of March of this year, the estimated cost of maintaining the department of petroleum and gas of the state mining bureau for the current fiscal year is $156,000. In order to renew the petroleum and gas fund to the maximum of $185,000, allowed by the statute under which the department functions, oil and gas producers and oil land owners will be subjected to a tax, prorated against oil and gas produced during 1925 and proved oil land as of March 1, 1926, to bring in a total amount of $156,000."

"In prorating the assessment, one-tenth of $156,000 is assessed against the proved oil land of the state, as determined by the state oil and gas supervisor. The remaining nine-tenths is levied against the oil

BROCK THANKED FOR EFFORT IN CURBING MOTH

Appreciation of the work done through the office of County Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock in curbing the walnut codling moth this season is expressed in a letter addressed to the county officer today by the walnut control committee of the Orange County Farm Bureau. The letter is as follows:

"Mr. A. A. Brock,
Horticultural Commissioner of Orange County,
Santa Ana, Calif.

"Dear Sir—As the season for treatment for the codling moth in Orange county is over, the committee appointed by the Orange County Farm Bureau to deal with this problem desires to express to you, and your office, its gratification over the manner in which the situation has been met this year.

"We are not unmindful of the fact that the short crop in some sections of Orange county has increased the difficulties of thorough treatment to a very considerable extent. We are mindful also of the fact that the first year always is the most difficult when a comprehensive program of treatment is attempted.

"In spite of these difficulties, we feel that a very adequate measure of control has been accomplished, and we desire to express at this time the appreciation of this committee and the constit-

JAIL LIFE MAKING MAN OF ONE-TIME HUMAN WRECKAGE

Once the long travail is over, the penance done, the fruits of respectability are sweeter and one has a keener appreciation for what, under other circumstances, would appear but the incidents of human existence.

That's what Henry J. Miller, son of the late dean of the American stage, is thinking, as he spends his long hours in the narcotic tank of the Orange county jail. He has six months and a day to serve. He entered the jail April 9, after pleading guilty before a federal judge in Los Angeles. He will go free December 19. Before that time, his fortieth birthday anniversary will have rolled around.

Miller is beating his way back to health, spiritually and physically. When he arrived, he was a wreck, fit to fill the principal role of a DeQuincey story. His eyes were bleary, his face twitched and he could not restrain the tears from weakness.

Now his face is filled out, the thin white hands have more flesh, the gloss has gone from his eyes and the husk has disappeared from his voice. Jail life has done him a great deal of good and he is thankful for being sent to the Orange county prison instead of being kept in Los Angeles "with a lot of human hyenas."

He has found true friends with the motley crew in the same tank with him. Here they are:

Valentino Empica, Filipino; Walter Tippen, colored; Wong Lig Dok, Chinese; Albert Anthony and Mert Thompson, Americans.

Miller can speak French and German fluently and is studying Spanish. The author of his Spanish text, he has discovered, must have been a mule Skinner, inasmuch as all through the first 17 chapters the man in the case has done all the work and the mules all the reposing.

From Wong Ling Dok, Miller is learning Cantonese, or as much of it as Wong Ling Dok knows. Miller wants to secure a copy of Wells Williams' book, "The Middle Kingdom," so he can make more progress with his Cantonese and so his friend, Wong, can improve his pidgin English.

But the son of America's all his time trying to mouth all his time trying to mouth the Chinese words of Wong. Part of the time he reads the Bible sent to him by a "Daughter of the King," residing in El Modena. The El Modena woman read in the Register of Miller's incarceration and sent him the Bible to help. She didn't sign her name. Miller considers the book one of his most cherished possessions.

Miller was cut off completely in the will left by his father, but that doesn't worry him. When he gets out he is going to live as he should, work hard and help his fellow man. Most of all he is going to "keep his lip clean" because he doesn't want to do another "rap" in the narcotic tank.

Of late, the months have gone so slowly that he has figured that they must each have 45 or 50 days, but then "someday" — "someday" will come and Henry Miller will trade old experiences for new.

visiting club, assumed charge, following completion of business by the Santa Ana club, and introduced Thomas H. Pickrell as program chairman.

Wife Says Hubby Threatened Her With Huge Knife

That her husband followed her to the home of a friend and, with drawn knife, threatened to kill her unless she returned home with him, was alleged today in a divorce complaint filed in a superior court by Deena G. Wadell against Victor L. Wadell, of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Wadell charged cruelty. She asks custody of her son, aged eight months, and a reasonable sum as alimony.

The Wadells were married in Riverside May 15, 1924, and separated on their second wedding anniversary, according to the complaint. Attorney E. G. Wenzlaff represents the plaintiff.

Stage and Screen

Kenneth Harlan and Mary McAllister in a scene from "The Sap," picture now showing at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Richard Barthelmess and Dorothy Mackail in a scene from "Ranson's Folly," current attraction at the Yost Broadway theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER.

Richard Barthelmess, well loved for his dramatic and appealing characterizations on the screen, scored another triumph in Richard Harding Davis' popular story, "Ranson's Folly," at the Yost Broadway theater last night. "Dick has never looked better and his portrayal of the lovable, devil-may-care officer who is always getting into scrapes in his search for excitement is exceptionally vivid. The story is laid in the colorful atmosphere of a Western army post in the adventurous '20's and is replete with excitement, thrills and dramatic action which display Barthelmess' talent to the full."

Dorothy Mackail, who plays the part of Mary Cahill, the post trader's daughter, gives a delightful performance and there is a rare grace and delicacy about her portrayal. This is the fourth time that Miss Mackail has played opposite Barthelmess, the last time being in "Shore Leave," which won such popular approval.

YOST THEATER.

A typical "Menjou audience" gathered at the Yost theater last evening to take in the picture, "A Social Celebrity." And what is a "Menjou audience"? Simply—one that is composed of persons from every walk of life. The much-advertised flappers were in attendance with their swain. Boys and girls were very much present. And to complete the picture, the parents of all these helped fill the house to capacity.

Not to keep the reader in suspense any longer, it is hereby recited that "A Social Celebrity" is one of the finest things Menjou has ever done. And for this, Malcolm St. Clair, his director, deserves much credit. The film is just full of those little touches we are learning to expect from him.

In brief, the amusing tale concerns a barber! It doesn't seem possible to connect romance with one of those white-clothed chaps who stands behind a shiny chair, but—when Adolphe Menjou is the person in question, well—that's different.

examination showing the exact cause of the sickness or trouble by presenting the coupon below at the office of MARTYN, FREE X-RAY CHIROPRACTORS, 412-416 Helbush Bldg., corner of 4th and Main, Santa Ana, Calif., within ten days from date. There is absolutely no catch to this offer in any way; you are under no obligation whatever. Here is your opportunity to find out just exactly what is causing your trouble and to actually see the condition with your own eyes. You have had enough guesswork; now learn the facts.

We, as Palmer X-Ray Chiropractors, have made a special study of the spine and the nervous system and realize the importance of keeping the nerves free from pressure in order to have and maintain a healthy body. Many individuals think that because we work exclusively on the spine, we cannot correct their particular condition of sickness or trouble, not realizing that every part of the body receives its power to function or its life, directly from the main line—these nerves. Our task is to find these pinched nerves which are causing your trouble and to work on them alone, in a very careful manner, without pain, remove pressure. We do not use medicine, surgery, osteopathy, massage, violet-ray, electronic reaction or any other adjunct. Only our hands upon your spine. We do not twist your neck, pull your legs or use hammers.

No matter what your trouble is or how long standing, we are sure that we can help you if it is possible to do so. We do not care how many things you have tried; don't say that you have done "everything there is to be done" until you have consulted us about your condition. Many sick people are coming to our office every day for their health, because they have failed to find relief through medicine, surgery, massage, electricity, violet-ray, electronic reaction, etc. You, too, can be well and enjoy good health.

SENIORS PLANT
IVY VINE FROM MOUNT VERNON

Ivy from George Washington's tomb, at Mount Vernon, was planted outside Andrews gymnasium yesterday in ceremonies held by the senior class of the Santa Ana polytechnic high school as part of class day events.

The ivy was procured in slips from a plant brought back from Mount Vernon by J. H. Rochester, of Costa Mesa.

After the students had gathered in Andrews hall, Oscar Area played a trombone solo. A poem, expressing the sentiment that "man made our hall, but God made trees," written by Miss Juliet Evans, was read by Miss Margaret Gache.

Principal D. K. Hammond broke the ground for the ivy planting.

Junior classmen were asked by Miss Evelyn Yount, president of the seniors, to see that the ivy is cared for and that the customs of each senior class adding another vine be continued.

Judson Riley, as president of the juniors, assured the seniors that the tradition would be passed on through succeeding years.

When the vine was planted, a small glass bottle, containing the names of the graduating seniors, the class will and Miss Evans' poem, was placed beneath the roots of the vine by Miss Yount.

Guests at the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Andrade, Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Basserman, C. E. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Francis, Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Linebarger and daughters, Ellen and Thelma Linebarger and the honorees.

VITAL ISSUES IN VOTE UPON ROYAL WEALTH

By DR. FRIEDRICH EVERLING
Nationalist Reichstag Deputy
(Copyright, 1926, by United Press)

BERLIN, June 18.—On Sunday, the German people not only will cast their ballots at the national referendum regarding the property of the royal houses, but they will also demonstrate to what extent the revolution of 1918 and its falsehoods have been surmounted and vanquished.

The proposed confiscation of the prince's property—an idea emanating from foreigners for the preparation of Bolshevism—would destroy the system of private property. We are fighting the expropriation of the royal houses for the sake of private property and as honest adherents of the monarchy. Our struggle against the confiscation of this royal property is also a testimonial of the gratitude and fidelity which links us inseparably with our princes.

Royalty's Financial Losses.

The royal families which ruled in Germany until 1918, of whom 13 members have died for the Fatherland, assumed a larger share of the misery of the people than most of the princes.

The royal house of Hohenzollern lost all but 1 1/2 per cent of its household treasure as well as 48,000,000 marks ($11,000,000) worth of war loan bonds.

Of the other reigning houses, that of Saxony Weimar and that of Waldeck lost approximately 90 per cent of that of Mecklenburg 96 per cent, that of Schwartzburg 100 per cent and those of Saxony-Meiningen.

Although it has been known for some time that he would be a candidate and his friends have been out working for him, Z. B. West Jr. today makes public an official announcement, for the first time, of his candidacy for the nomination for office of district attorney in today's issue of the Register.

West is the son of Z. B. West sr., superior court judge in Orange county for the last 25 years.

In announcing his candidacy, West points to the fact that he was born in Santa Ana, received public and high school education here and graduated from Santa Ana high school with the class of 1913. Higher education was received at Stanford university, West graduating with the class of 1917.

After serving throughout the entire war, West was honorably discharged in September, 1919, and returned to Stanford and completed his law course.

In 1923, he was elected to the office of city attorney and holds that post at the present time. He declares he is running for district attorney on his record, which includes the completion of 100 street proceedings, involving close to $2,000,000. He further points out that he has successfully defended the city in all litigation without assistance or additional expense on the part of the city. His record shows that there have been 161 convictions of violations of the liquor laws during his regime.

He pledges "to conscientiously administer the duties of district attorney and advise the board of supervisors on matters of law."

"To fairly and fearlessly investigate all complaints and, if the investigation warrants, to prosecute to the fullest extent."

Plan Celebration For Swedish King

STOCKHOLM, June 18.—A double royal jubilee is already under preparation for King Gustav V of Sweden two years from now, as at that time he can celebrate both his 70th birthday and the twentieth anniversary of his succession to the throne. Though the two dates do not exactly coincide they fell near enough to each other to justify a combined observance. The celebration will probably be set for the spring of 1928.

La Habra Takes Bride In Indiana

LA HABRA, June 18.—Word has been received by local Kiwanians from M. J. Pickering, delegate to the national Kiwanis convention in Montreal, Canada, telling of his safe arrival there. While passing through Middleton, Indiana, enroute for Montreal, Mr. Pickering stopped off long enough to take as his bride, Miss Itasca Jane Unthunk, his school days sweetheart.

The bride and groom expect to be at home at La Habra after July 15. The groom, who is well known here, has been a trustee at the local school for the past seven years.

Our Neighbors

SAN BERNARDINO—Two and one-half million trout will be "planted" in Big Bear lake and the streams of the San Bernardino mountains this year in the most extensive restocking program in sport history, Game Warden W. C. Malone announces. Every stream in the mountains from the trickling tributaries to Deep and Bear creeks will be stocked with trout. In Deep creek, 120,000 fish will be placed in the head waters; in Bear creek, 125,000 and in Lytle creek, where fishing has been poor in recent years, a stock of 146,000 will be distributed by deputy game wardens.

SANTA BARBARA—Santa Barbara officials yesterday asserted a record for voting bond issues never equalled by a city of equal size, when it was revealed that the city, by a vote ratio of 16 to 1, had approved the $700,000 court house bond issue. Opposition in the county cut the majority to 7 to 1. It was the third bond issue voted in 30 days, all of them by decisive majorities. The first was the $200,000 harbor bond issue, which carried 19 to 1, and the second the $60,000 school bond issue which went over by 12 to 1. The courthouse bond issue was made necessary by the earthquake, but the new schools were immediately necessary only because of the rapid growth of the city since the catastrophe. Harbor plans had been laid before the earthquake and the vote was delayed until after the period of readjustment.

ONTARIO—With two apricot canneries operating and two more starting shortly, more than 1,000 persons will be given employment in this district. All of the packers are optimistic over the outlook and declare that the biggest season in the history of the canning business is at hand. Although more than 1000 are employed in the four canneries, hundreds of applicants are on the waiting lists, according to plant managers. Apricots are now being shipped from the Banning district. While there is a shortage in the local apricot crop, the pack this season will in all probabilities exceed that of last year by two weeks' run, according to W. S. Mudd, manager of the Golden State cannery.

LONG BEACH—Preliminary work on the city's gas-manufacturing plant has been started W. A. White, gas department superintendent, announces. While engineers are drafting plans and specifications for the plant, workmen are preparing the site for an early beginning of actual construction. The location chosen is adjacent to the city's big gas holder south of West Anaheim street. The intention is to rush the building of one unit of the manufacturing plant so as to have it in commission by December 1, the gas department superintendent stated. The cost of this initial unit is estimated at $200,000. It will be capable of producing 5,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas daily. Within four or five years, the city will build the remaining units of the establishment at a total cost of $1,000,000. The capacity of the completed plant will be 20,000,000 cubic feet daily.

WHITTIER—The Whittier District Fruit exchange already has passed the $1,000,000 mark in shipments of citrus fruits for this season, and the Valencia season is now in full swing. The navel season cleaned up somewhat earlier than last year, making way for the Valencia. The lemon shipments have been the heaviest in years, and the fruit shipped has been of exceptionally fine quality. There are eight packing-houses forming the Whittier District Fruit exchange and all are running near capacity. Dalton Field is manager for the exchange.

Mrs. A. L. Morris, of Mountain View avenue, who underwent a major operation at the Anaheim Community hospital, is reported doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kerr are spending a few days in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Howard are on a six weeks' tour of the northern part of the state. They will also visit points in Washington and Oregon before returning.

Mrs. Norah Scott and daughter, Mary, left Tuesday for Richfield, Mo., where they will join Mr. Scott, who has been there since November.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

To Neutralize Acidity and Fermentation. Prevents Indigestion, Sour Gassy Stomach

People who suffer from indigestion usually have acid, peptic, charcoal, dragees and various other aids and know these things will not cure their trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, first try the effect of a little Bisulard Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bisulard Magnesia, which can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or form compressed tablet in a little water after your next meal and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which causes you to feel so tired and sour, making gas with flatulence, heartburn and the bloated feeling.

It will also help to get rid of

DEDICATION OF BOWL WILL BE NOTABLE EVENT

Hollywood bowl devotees will witness something decidedly novel when, for the first time in the world's history, four guest conductors will direct the same symphony orchestra within one concert evening. This will take place the night of June 22, when the bowl is dedicated with a most spectacular program of music and dance.

The guest conductors will be Walter Henry Rothwell, Los Angeles; Modest Altschuler, formerly conductor of the Russian Symphony orchestra; Pietro Cimini, famed for his five years with the Chicago Civic Grand Opera and as a symphony conductor in Russia; and Adolf Tandler, conductor of the pioneer Los Angeles Symphony and of the Tandler Little Symphony orchestra.

Another unique musical feature will be a piano ensemble, in which 24 of the foremost pianists in Southern California will participate. This unique "chorus" of pianos, which has been organized by Abby De Avrett, will play Schubert's "Marche Militaire" and MacDowell's "To a Water Lily," conducted by Adolf Tandler.

Gov. F. W. Richardson, will make a special dedicatory address in honor of this event in the state's cultural history.

Two "little geniuses," Louise and Joana Leschin, ages 8 and 13, respectively, will play, with full orchestra, a movement from a double piano concerto by Mozart.

Leonida Coroni, celebrated baritone from Milan, Italy, and Marcella Craft, Southern California's famous prima donna, who has just returned from operatic triumphs abroad, will be soloists.

A treat for both eye and ear has been provided on this program in Ernest Belcher's brilliant ballet of 100 dancers in "The Phantom of the Opera" ballet. The music, the Faust ballet, will be conducted by Maestro Pietro Cimini.

Directors of the "Industrial symphony" now going on in the bowl, in which hundreds of workmen are laboring day and night to complete the first $150,000 unit of the permanent plans, give promise that everything will be in readiness the night of June 22 for this gala dedicatory event.

"I have taken off 18 lbs. of excess fat with SILPH and feel like a new man." Signed W. H. M., Brooklyn.

No Dangerous Drugs—Guaranteed Harmless!

Why should't men as well as the fair sex care to have a normal figure? There is an old saying, "Nobody likes a FAT man." Who knows better than the one overburdened with excess weight that this is true.

A man's appearance means much to his social success in business. Why should't encourage their husbands to reduce if they see the threatening signs of a double chin—a bulging stomach coming on—A trim, well proportioned figure is an asset that no man can afford to sacrifice. Weight loss is recommended to be dangerous by insurance companies and physicians—if a man is overburdened by fat he cannot enjoy perfect health and he is in constant danger of a stroke.

It should now be easy and pleasant for anyone to reduce—SILPH is used by thousands of people—it comes in form of a pleasure, refreshing chewing gum—two or three pieces of SILPH a day generally gives most satis-

SANTA ANA TO BE MADE ONE OF PRINCIPLE CENTERS FOR MOTOR TRANSIT BUS LINES

No less important to Santa Ana than yesterday's announcement in the Register of the purchase of a new depot site by the Motor Transit company, are plans of this progressive transportation system to make this city one of its principal operating centers, as outlined to a Register reporter yesterday by F. D. Howell, general manager of the company, who spent the day in Santa Ana.

With the new, more conveniently located and practically designed terminal provided for, work will be started without delay in providing a companion structure in a new shop building on an adjoining site, 85 by 120 feet, which will be equipped with every facility for effecting repairs and maintaining the high degree of service work on the equipment demanded by the company.

Inaugurate New Schedules

Embraced also in the new plans of the Motor Transit company, according to Howell, are the inauguration of augmented time-saving schedules, the use of the most modern equipment, and the maintenance of all operations by a large force of thoroughly experienced transportation experts in Santa Ana.

Upwards of a score of agents, dispatchers, operators and mechanics will represent the local payroll, and these men are being drafted from the ranks of what has been termed the best organized working force of its kind in the country.

Not the least important of the transportation company's plans is the linking up of Santa Ana with a vast system of motor stage operations blanketing Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties, with lines literally converging from all directions into Santa Ana.

Re-route Beach Trips

It is predicted that within a few weeks throngs of passengers will realize the advantages of routing their trips to the seaside resorts, Long Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport, Balboa and Laguna Beach, through Santa Ana, which has been made possible by Motor Transit company's acquisition of all Crown stage lines, effective August 1, and the local operating rights of the Pickwick Stage system, now in effect.

From a viewpoint of business contact, the new operations of the company will place Santa Ana in quick connection with numerous localities handicapped, heretofore, because of the lack of through transportation facilities.

As a division point, which likewise constitutes a most important junction point, Santa Ana enjoys a strategic location, according to the view expressed by Howell.

Realize City's Importance

"We have long realized the importance of Santa Ana from an operation standpoint," declared Howell, "having formerly had transportation interests here which we were forced to abandon because of conditions beyond our control. Now that we are able to come back again and offer every facility of our system for the convenience of Santa Ana and surrounding communities, it may be assumed with confidence that we will offer the last word in convenience, comfort and saving of time."

"We believe it timely and proper to express our hopes for consideration on the part of the traveling public, and to extend our assurance that we welcome suggestions from any source designed to improve the service rendered by us."

LIE PASSED AS SEAL BEACH'S CHIEF OUSTED

SEAL BEACH, June 18.—Refusing to retreat under fire, Julius A. Hammer Jr. was removed as city marshal of Seal Beach at the board of trustees' meeting last night, when three members declared the position vacant and then appointed S. M. Foster, of Monterey Park, to fill the vacancy. Hammer's removal was at the hands of the three trustees who appointed him less than two months ago, when the city administration changed.

Mayor Dolley with Trustees John and Wheat, voted to declare the office vacant. Trustees Transue and Walker voted "no" on the proposition, although they had not voted for Mr. Hammer when he was first appointed.

There were street rumors during the afternoon that there might be something doing at the council meeting, consequently the city hall was filled almost to capacity with spectators. Those who came looking for "fireworks"—were not disappointed, for during the heated argument that too place between members of the board and between Mr. Hammer and the three who removed him from office, the lie was passed.

The matter was brought up by Trustee John, who stated in a general way that the work of the city marshal since his appointment had not been satisfactory to him. Trustee Wheat concurred in this opinion, which was later shared by Mayor Dolley. Trustee Transue, a holdover, asked for specific charges, as he thought every man should be given an opportunity to defend himself against any complaints or charges that might be made against him. Mr. Transue also stated that although he had not voted for Mr. Hammer at the time of his appointment, he was satisfied that he was doing all in his power to faithfully perform the duties of the office. Trustees Transue and Walker both declared that they had no previous knowledge that any complaints had been made against the city marshal, or that his work was unsatisfactory, although Walker is a member of the police committee of the council with Trustee John.

Urged to make specific charges, Trustee John cited two instances in which he alleged a deputy city marshal had "fixed" speeding cases before they came to trial. Later in the argument he said the marshal had not made good on his promises as to the number of bootleggers he would arrest.

To this the marshal replied that he has not been given co-operation by the men who appointed him and even accused one of them of not divulging where he got his supply. He also spoke of a poker game in which he alleged one of the councilmen had lost $80. To one statement made by Trustee John, Mr. Hammer replied "that is a lie." Several times during the argument the city marshal was loudly applauded by the spectators, many of whom had supported the three winning candidates.

at the recent city election. There was a burst of applause when he recalled the pledge they had made to the people of "A square deal to all," and accused them of not keeping faith with him.

Trustee Transue suggested that the board as a whole take up the matter at an informal meeting, as he thought it a proposition in which the entire membership should have all the facts. He said that although the board is composed of five members, three have abrogated unto themselves complete authority in all matters. He considered all five responsible to the public and all should have knowledge of what is being done in municipal affairs. He said that neither he nor Trustee Walker have been consulted on any subject by the three new members.

Declaring themselves ready to take immediate action, the majority members proceeded to remove Mr. Hammer from office and appointed S. M. Foster to fill the vacancy.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids to supply cast iron pipe and fittings for new water mains across the Anaheim Landing bridge and through the Ord Land company's tract.

Ordinance No. 127, licensing slot machines, was given second reading and adopted.

The street superintendent was instructed to place shut off valves under the pier and at Eleventh street on Seal way, so that visitors on the beach might obtain drinking water.

A motion was carried to the effect that the county health officer continue attending to sanitary regulations in Seal Beach.

It was the first stormy session a Seal Beach city council has held for more than two years, and opinion is general today that the "fun" is just beginning with a three-two combination on the board.

EXPECT GREAT FIGHT FOR U. S. GOLF TITLE

The Great Umpire is no respecter of persons.

Within a year, two of the greatest pitchers that ever took a sign from a catcher, have heard the final call of out. Christy Mathewson and Eddie Plank.

Major league baseball suffered a distinct loss in the passing of these two famous stars of other days.

Mathewson and Plank were among the first of the college ball players to make the big league grade. Matty haled from Bucknell, Plank from Gettysburg.

These two great pitchers did much to make their alma maters known from coast to coast. It is fitting that they should be properly remembered by the colleges that graduated them into the big leagues.

Gettysburg is to dedicate a memorial gymnasium to help perpetuate the memory of Eddie Plank, southpaw extraordinary. Bucknell is to honor Mathewson in a similar manner.

The National league is lending its aid to the Mathewson movement, while the American league is helping to put over the Eddie Plank testimonial.

A great pitcher and a gentleman always, was Plank. Gettysburg college is asking the aid of the baseball fans of the country to assist in putting the project over.

A number of the American league clubs have designated an "Eddie Plank Day" on dates when the Philadelphia Athletics are the attraction.

On such days a collection will be taken up, thereby giving the fans, many of them admirers of Plank when he was an outstanding star, a chance to contribute their mite.

The fans are sure to do their part.

Connie Mack, the man who made Plank, in speaking of the proposed memorial says:

"The erection of a memorial gymnasium to the memory of Eddie Plank is a splendid thought.

"It is a fitting tribute to a man

Garden Grove, the club that surprised indoor baseball wiseacres by humiliating the strong Anaheim squad last week, makes its first appearance of the season at Lincoln park here tonight when it goes against the Santa Ana American Legion in an Orange County league tilt.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 18.—The British team forged to the front for the first time in two days when Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree defeated Elizabeth Ryan in a hard-fought match, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4. The victory gave Britain a point score of three and made it necessary for America to win both the remaining matches to capture the Wightman cup.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 18.—America took the lead in Wightman cup play at two matches to one today when Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup and Eleanor Goss won their doubles match from Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Mrs. Shepard-Barron, 6-4, 6-2, but England squared the team score at two-all when John Fry won the next match from Mary K. Browne of California, 3-6, 6-0, 6-4.

Although Miss Browne was still bothered by the unfamiliar English ball, she got her strong fore hand working during the first set after the sixth game, and then paraded through the remaining three games.

The American concentrated her drives against her opponent's back hand.

Miss Fry's service, always the weakest point of her game, became even weaker and she doubled faulted at critical times.

In the second set, Miss Browne lost control, netting her short shots and driving persistently beyond the base lines. Miss Fry scored several brilliant placements to take the set at love.

The deciding set went to Miss Fry after spirited rallies that took several games to deuce.

June 19 marks the eightieth anniversary of the first match game of baseball, which was played by the Knickerbocker and New York clubs at Hoboken on that date in 1846.

SCIOTO'S "POSTAGE STAMP" GREEN TRICKY

TIERNANS BEAT GAS COMPANY AND STAY FIRST IN LEAGUE; ENGLISH'S CATCH FEATURES

The national open golf championship will be held next month will be won or lost on the famous "postage stamp" green of the Scioto Country club links.

It's the 17th, a 135 yarder and, according to no less an authority than George Sargent, former national and Canadian open titleholder and present Scioto pro, it stands out as the feature hole of the course.

It is a downhill hole onto a postage stamp style of putting green that is well-guarded by sand traps on three sides, front, rear and left. It is a par three and any player will be more than satisfied to get by it in average figures.

MANSFIELD IS CITY LEAGUE'S STAR FLINGER

Jimmy Mansfield, the little southpaw pitcher for Lee's Fountain, not only is the leading moundsmen in the Santa Ana Indoor Baseball league in point of games won and lost but also has far outdistanced his rivals in strikeouts, according to averages for the first half of the season compiled today by the Register.

The mite left-hander has won five consecutive games for the Fountaineers and fanned 76 batters, an average of more than 15 a game. Lyle Richards of the Southern Counties Gas company and "Eeny" Wilcox of the F. C. Blauer grocery are the only other twirlers with perfect averages.

"Rusty" Callow, for the first time, company's star gunner, is the real second place holder. Callow has worked all the games for his club and has dropped but one in seven starts. His strikeout record of 45 puts him in third place in that event.

Horace Snow of the Blauers, with three victories in four games, ranks third in the standings and Eddie Boyd of the Arnold Peek market is fourth. The averages follow:

PRINCETON, N. J., June 18.—Varsity and junior varsity crews of Washington and Princeton will dip their ears in Lake Carnegie at dusk this evening in a race over the short mile and three-quarters of a mile.

"Rusty" Callow, for the first time, has arranged an eastern race for his crew prior to the Poughkeepsie regatta. The Huskies, overwhelming favorites to win today, will entertain tomorrow for Poughkeepsie to get in a week's practice before the regatta.

Callow has made a couple of changes in his first shell since arriving here. Bolles is in the bow and Ulbrickson is first coxswain, replacing Glerup and Wauthenow, respectively.

MARY BROWNE DRAWS SUZANNE AS FIRST OPPONENT IN WIMBLETON NET TOURNEY

LONDON, June 18.—Mary K. Browne and Vincent Richards, American tennis stars, found ill fortune in the draw for next week's Wimbledon tournament, announced today.

Miss Browne will be forced to play Suzanne Lenglen in the first round of the women's singles. These two were the finalists in the recent hard court championship play at Paris and the French woman won with the loss of only one game.

Richards must meet his conqueror at Paris, Henri Cochet, who won the men's singles championship in the second round.

The name of Helen Wills remains in the women's singles. She is in the second quarter of the drawings with Mrs. Molla Mallory and Joan Fry.

It was said several days ago that Miss Wills' entry would not be scratched, until it was definitely decided whether her recent operation for appendicitis would prevent her appearance at Wimbledon.

JOHNSTON AND STRATFORD IN TENNIS CLASH

BERKELEY, Calif., June 18.—A crowded schedule greeted participants in the Pacific Coast Tennis championships on the courts of the Berkeley Tennis club today, with major interest centered on the scheduled play between William Johnston and Gerald Stratford, holder of the California state singles title, in the fifth round of the men's singles, and the doubles match between the Filipino Aragon brothers and Phil Neer and James Davies, former national inter-collegiate doubles champions.

Bobby Sellers, San Francisco youth, attained new honors when he defeated John Doeg, Santa Monica, in yesterday's fourth round play in the men's singles, 3-6, 6-2.

Of second interest in yesterday's play was the match between Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, national junior girls' champion, and Avery Follett, won by the former, 6-4, 6-2.

Seller, reaching the semi-final bracket, was joined by Mervyn Griffin later in the day. Griffin defeated Kurt Bennett, 6-0, 3-6, 7-5. Seller and Griffin will play in different halves.

Cliff Robins, Los Angeles, playing in the boy's under 15 class, was the only entrant to reach the finals in any event.

who devoted 17 years of exceptional effort to raise the national pastime to the position of prominence that it now holds with the American public.

"I am more than anxious to see the fulfillment of this project."

And Connie Mack, by the way, is doing more for the fund than merely offering his well wishes.

This summer a game will be played between the present Athletics and the members of the team on which Plank starred. The receipts will be turned over to the fund.

Such players as Eddie Collins, Chief Bender, Joe Bush, Wally Schang and other stars of former Mackin clubs will be rounded up for the affair.

It is pleasing to note the desire to honor Plank and Mathewson. Both prove there is sentiment in baseball, all reports to the contrary.

Not only have Plank and Mathewson done much to elevate the standards of the game but they have been an inspiration to the ambitious college ball player. When they broke into the majors, the collegian had no standing, he was more or less the joke of the ball club.

It's different now. The college field delivers many stars to the majors. Plank and Mathewson helped pave the way.

More power to Gettysburg and Bucknell in their efforts to perpetuate the memory of Eddie Plank and Christy Mathewson!

TIERNAN KIDS WIN, HOLD LEAGUE LEAD

Tiernan Kids, easily the best fielding aggregation in the city, can give a pitcher.

English Stars in Field "Memphis" Hill, Randolph Bell, Gene Hitt and Ray Smith all turned in sensational stops and catches but the evening's fielding medals should go to Harold English, the fleet high school boy, who made the most amazing catch of the year out in left field. Incidentally his efforts saved his club three runs.

The Gas company started out like they were going to trim the Tiernans. Turner singled infield and Allender rapped another safety into right. That put Wayne Nelson, the Gas company's most dangerous sticker, to bat. Nelson leaned on the first pitch and there wasn't a fan in the house who was giving him less than a homer on that one as it shot like a bullet between left and center. English turned his back and running at full speed, nailed the flying sphere on the tips of his fingers as it passed over his shoulder. Nelson should sue English for robbery.

Kids Pound Richards

English made himself more of a hero than ever in the next inning when his club suddenly fell on Lyle Richards, the Gas company moundsman, and drove him out of the box with a seven run barrage. English's contribution to this rally was a homer with one on base. Hits by E. Hitt, Smith, Holmes, Hill, Romo and Bell, the latter's a double, also were grouped together in this wild batting affray.

Nelson went to the mound in the third and subdued the Kids with four runs during the rest of the route but the damage had been wrought and the way Hitt was going and the backing his mates were giving him the outcome never was in doubt.

NEW CHIEF OF STATE P.-T.A. TAKES OFFICE

Mrs. F. O. McColloch, of Los Angeles, newly installed president of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, took office officially at the close of the state board meeting in Sacramento, Tuesday, June 15, according to word received here today by Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, director of the publicity department, fourth (Orange county) division of the organization.

Mrs. McColloch, who is well known throughout the county, having visited Santa Ana and other cities on various occasions, was endorsed by the county organization and supported at the state convention held last month in San Bernardino.

Will Go to Philadelphia

The advices further state that Mrs. Hugh Bradford, retiring state president, residing in Sacramento, will leave next Saturday for Philadelphia, to attend the national executive board meeting and to take part in the program of the National Education association, to be held June 29. Under the general topic, "America's Challenge to Her Parents," Mrs. Bradford will speak on "The Value of Parent and Teacher Co-operation."

The board meeting held last Tuesday in the state capital disposed of the odds and ends of business left over at the post-convention meeting of the executive board in San Bernardino.

A resolution reiterating the necessity of instructing district, federation and association presidents in the constitutional rule prohibiting any endorsement of co-operation with commercial interests over which the Parent-Teacher organization has not complete control, was adopted.

Refuses to Indorse Movies

The state board declined to indorse junior matinees in motion picture houses on the ground that the Parent-Teacher organization was concerned with education and not regulation and that, while the organization is interested in encouraging good motion pictures in all possible ways, it is not in its province to indorse commercial products of any kind.

According to a report of Mrs. P. J. Kramer, state chairman of finance for the California Congress of Parents and Teachers from July 1, 1925 to April 15, 1926, $53,146 was expended in philanthropic work; $26,371 in scholarship; keeping pupils in grade, high, normal and university classes; $82,552 in school equipment; $6195 in playground equipment; $4812 in musical instruments, and $86,610 in nutrition, making a total of $295,589 spent during 10 months.

Use Lemons to Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon juice into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate.

Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.

BREA

BREA, June 18.—At the regular business meeting of Trinity Rebekah Lodge Monday night, officers for the next six months, beginning July 1, were elected. Mrs. Bertha Blackmore, of Brea, was made noble grand; Mrs. Grace Stogsdale, of La Habra, vice grand; C. V. Hardman, of La Habra, trustee. At the last meeting of the term, June 23, the incoming noble grand will name her appointive officers and installation of the new officers will take place at the first meeting in July. With the closing of the present term, Trinity Lodge marks its fourth birthday anniversary and plans are to include the celebration of this event with the installation ceremonies. Miss Ruth Thornton, delegate from Trinity to the assembly held in San Francisco in May, read her report of the convention at this meeting. Visitors present from Fullerton Rebekah Lodge were Miss Alice Goodwin, noble grand, and her mother, Mrs. Jessie Goodwin, Mrs. Hazel Solesbee, Mrs. Henry Patton and Mrs. Lloyd Annin. Following the business meeting, light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Charles Sullivan and little daughter, Marian, left several days ago on a three months' visit in the middle west, their objective points being Nebraska and Arkansas, where they will visit with relatives and friends. They will return in time for the opening of the fall term of school.

Little Miss Betty Burns, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Burns, was operated upon by Dr. C. E. Steen yesterday for the removal of her tonsils. She is reported as getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Senn, for many years residents of Brea, have purchased a quarter acre of land near Costa Mesa and will move their family there as soon as the necessary buildings have been completed.

Mr. Senn, who has been in the sewer contracting business for some time here, will try his luck at gardening and raising rabbits and chickens.

Miss Araminta Sents and Miss Jamie Michaels, both teachers in the Brea grammar schools, left the first of the week for their respective homes in the east. Miss Sents going to Red Lion, Pa., and Miss Michaels continuing to Portland, Me. Both will spend the summer months in the east visiting with family and friends and doing a little sight-seeing about New York City and other points of interest. Miss Sents expects to motor back and both she and Miss Michaels will arrive in time to assume their duties in the school this fall.

Marking the close of year's work, the Brea Woman's Club held an interesting session Monday afternoon in the club rooms in the Chamber of Commerce building. Reports were heard from the retiring president, Mrs. A. D. Clayton, from other officers and from chairmen of committees, enumerating the civic and social activities of the club for the past year and dwelling with especial pride upon their success in the tree planting campaign for the beautifying of the city. Mrs. Clayton was presented with a very handsome silver platter as a token of the appreciation of the members for her work in behalf of the club. Mrs. I. W. Barnett, first vice president for the new club year, accepted the president's chair in the absence of Mrs. R. W. Phelps, incoming president, who was detained in her home because of illness. The retiring president announced that the Brea Woman's Club is to officiate at a banquet of 200 plates on one day of the county fair in September, the proceeds of which are to be used toward the maintenance of the preventorium in Trabuco canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hughes and family, who have been living in the Congregational church parsonage on South Redwood since the destruction of their farm home in the fire that swept the tank farm of the Union Oil company here early in April, have moved to Long Beach, where they expect to remain pending a settlement with the oil company, before purchasing a permanent home.

Elmer Holcomb, for several months a clerk in Chaffee's local store, has this week taken over the fresh fruit and vegetable department of the store, which is now one of the string of Safeway stores. The department has been entirely remodeled and rearranged under Mr. Holcomb's management, new tables, shelves and counters having been installed, which greatly add to the appearance and the ease of handling the trade.

Pauline Vinson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Vinson, formerly in the dairy business in Brea but now living in Los Angeles, was married on June 9 to Ernest Alexander of Anaheim. The wedding ceremony was performed in the Christian church with only close members of the families of the bride and groom being present.

Mr. Alexander will be remembered by many Brea people as having been the manager of Chaffee's local store about two years ago. He and his bride will make their home in Anaheim, where Mr. Alexander has headquarters as salesman for the Fleischer Yeast company.

W. A. Culp and family are enjoying a brand new coupe, purchased early this week through the agency of Ralph Peterkin.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

CHIEF WINTER INSTRUCTED TO DISCHARGE COPS

ANAHEIM, June 18.—That a comprehensive house cleaning is planned in the Fullerton police department in the near future was revealed this morning by Police Commissioners W. J. Carmichael and O. M. Thompson.

Though Chief of Police T. K. Winter has been given a vote of confidence by the board of trustees and will be retained as head of the department, other officers are to be removed from the service and new appointments made, the commissioners stated. They declined, however, to vouchsafe any opinion as to the changes in the police department personnel which might be expected.

This action is the outcome of a special closed session of the board of trustees held following its regular open meeting last Tuesday night, when the sensational charges recently brought against various officers by a former officer, Ross Rudy, were discussed. Rudy charged members of the force, including Chief Winter, and former City Recorder George L. Story, with taking sacramental wines from the city jail.

According to Trustee Carmichael, Chief Winter has been instructed to entirely reorganize the department in order to achieve a better cooperative spirit among the officers.

It was learned this morning that Jack Diest, a veteran of the force, has resigned. According to Chief Winter, Diest has been considering quitting for some time. Diest plans to retire, according to Winter.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, June 18.—Members of the Aid society of the Presbyterian church yesterday entertained their husbands at a picnic at Orange County park. More than 35 members of the society were present.

More than 70 Pythians and their wives last night enjoyed a 60¢ clock dinner at the Pythian hall. Members of the Pythian Sisters organization prepared the supper.

Friends of Miss Evelyn Whitmore tendered her a birthday and theater party Tuesday evening. Miss Whitmore accepted an invitation to spend the evening with Miss Charlotte Pritchard. When she arrived at the Pritchard home, she found the friends awaiting her. Following a theater party in Santa Ana, the group returned to the C. O. Artz home here, where refreshments were served. Among those present at the party were Miss Evelyn Whitmore, Miss Alice Prather, Miss Alice McDowell, Miss Louise Artz, Miss Charlotte Pritchard, Truscott Lindsey, Ray Coffman, John Newman, Don Park and Royce Edison.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Crawford and family motored to Ventura this week to visit friends.

3 Brea Oil Men Suffer Broken Arms

BREA, June 18.—Three Brea oil workers suffered broken arms in accidents this week. One of the employees narrowly escaped death.

Guy Savage, of 143 Princeton avenue, Fullerton, a driller for the Fullerton Oil company on its property one mile north of this city, came near losing his life Tuesday morning, when a heavy truck, behind which he was standing suddenly loosened its brakes and rolled upon him, knocking him to the ground and rolling over the left arm, crushing that member just below the elbow. Mr. Savage was rushed to the office of Dr. C. E. Steen, where he was given first aid treatment and was then taken in the ambulance of Hilgenfeld-Rollins to the Fullerton hospital where an X-ray of the arm was taken and the assurance given that it would not have to be amputated. Only the quick action of Mr. Savage in jerking his head out of the path of the heavy wheels saved his life.

Fred Gale, while assisting in the building of an oil derrick with the Whittier Contracting company at Whittier Heights, had his right arm badly bruised when a heavy timber fell upon it. He will be forced to keep to the house for some time.

L. A. Will, an employee of the Shell Oil company, fell from an oil derrick on which he was working Wednesday morning, the result being a compound fracture of the right arm.

UNION TO MAKE DEEP WELL TEST

YORBA LINDA, June 18.—The Union Oil company expects to make a production test of its deep well, east of the Yorba Linda district, north of the Kraemer properties of the Standard Oil company, according to field reports. Casing has been set at about 4800 feet, where the lower zone is expected. The Union leased a large acreage south of Yorba Linda, and north of the producing district of Yorba Linda, with the idea of getting production from the deep zone which has been successfully exploited by the Standard Oil company and the Chiksan Oil company for several years, but which has not been proved to extend as far north as the new Union holdings.

Success of the Union deep test will affect the prospects of the Goodmanson holdings of the Chiksan Oil company, located just north of the Union's Yorba Linda properties. The Chiksan completed negotiations for the leasing of this property a few days ago, on the strength of showing which the Union's test well is said to have had.

176 FULLERTON HIGH GRADUATES GET DIPLOMAS

FULLERTON, June 18.—Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, delivering a stirring message to the largest graduating class ever to leave the Fullerton union high school at the annual commencement exercises staged on the campus lawn early last evening.

The 176 graduates presented a striking appearance, seated on the miniature grandstand erected to accommodate them, the white dresses of the girls and the dark suits of the boys standing out in sharp contrast against the verdant background of the lawn. Parents and friends of the graduates and hundreds of townsmen gathered on the lawn and lined the streets during the exercises, a special amplifying system carrying the speakers' voices to all.

The exercises were opened with a short concert by the Fullerton union high school band under the direction of E. B. Tozier.

At 6:30 o'clock, the processional march was played and the 176 graduates filed onto the platform, taking their assigned places. The Rev. G. A. Manshardt, of Placentia, gave the invocation.

Principal Plummer made the formal presentation of the class and the diplomas were given the graduates by Ross N. Hodson, chairman of the board of trustees.

Arthur Kroeger, student body president, acted as valedictorian for the class, presenting a brief farewell address.

COUNTY MASON HEAR DONALDSON

FULLERTON, June 18.—Members of the Orange County Masonic club met in Fullerton at the Masonic temple last night. Following a 6:30 o'clock dinner, the members were entertained by Professor J. E. Donaldson, world traveler and conductor of study tours, with an stereopticon lecture of various lands. Harry Dwyer, accompanied by Miss Wihard, sang a solo.

Plans were laid for a Masonic club picnic to be held in Huntington Beach in September. The next meeting of the organization will be held in Orange, July 21, it was voted.

The Goodmanson tract, comprising three acres, formerly was held by the Union, but was relinquished several weeks ago because of strict drilling requirements, it is said.

ANAHEIM AUTO DEALERS PLAN GASOLINE ECONOMY RUN TO BIG BEAR LAKE

ANAHEIM, June 18.—Anaheim automobile dealers, acting under the supervision of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, are laying plans for a gasoline economy run to be staged between Anaheim and Big Bear lake on June 22, it was revealed today.

Virtually all dealers of the city, representing most of the standard makes of cars, are to compete in the contest, which is to be held in at Big Bear six hours later under penalty of disqualification for failure to arrive on time.

LAGUNA BEACH CONCERT SUCCESS

LAGUNA BEACH, June 18.—The concert by the chorus of the Women's club, which was given in the studio of Miss Josephine Hills Tuesday evening, was a distinct success, musically as well as financially.

Under the expert direction of Miss Anna Priscilla Risher, a composer of note and the former head of the music department of the Cumnock School for Girls, the program moved with a swing and a rhythm. Rehearsals have been going on for many months and yet this is the first official appearance of the chorus in a concert.

Assisting artists included Miss Hills and Leon Burford. Miss Risher and other musicians predict a great future for the lad, who is but 13 years old and is playing the heaviest of classical numbers with facility and strength.

The program included three of Miss Risher's own compositions, "O, Mistress Mine," "Where the Bee Sucks," and "We Did, We Certainly Did."

Miss Josephine Hills and Leon Burford played the Bach Concerto, the second movement being especially well done.

Burford's solo number was Vivaldi's "Chaconne in G Minor," a composition that gave the violinist much scope for interpretation and technique.

The chorus, composed of members of the Laguna Beach Woman's club, had as representatives, Miss Harriet Boulanger, Mrs. Virginia Champion, Mrs. Hazel Gowen, Mrs. Jennie Johnson, Mrs. Edna Norton, Mrs. Claire Planalp, Miss Mary Riker, Mrs. Ora Warling, Mrs. Marie Thurston, Mrs. Wilma Thompson, Miss Mary Thompson and Miss Jane Louise Underwood.

Other members who did not take part in the concert included Mrs. Mabel McCue, Mrs. Bertha Mott and Miss Gladys Burton.

New S. A. V. I. Well Goes On Production

ORANGE, June 18.—Two hundred and fifty inches of water will in all probability be the capacity of the new well drilled by the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company on the north side of Santiago creek at Cambridge street, according to A. N. Saxton, company president. The present output of the well, which was completed recently, is 200 inches.

A 20-inch hole 900 feet deep was drilled. According to Saxton, the increased production will alleviate any shortness of irrigation water in this section during the summer months.

STANDARD GETS FREAK H. B. WELL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 18.—The Standard Oil company finished a freak well in the Huntington Beach field yesterday, bringing in its Thomson No. 7 well in the southwest part of the field with a production of approximately 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, but with no oil. The peculiar feature of the completion is that the Thomson No. 7 is located in an old producing part of the field where oil production is small, and the gas output of the individual wells still smaller.

FEDERAL AGENTS PROBABLY WILL INVESTIGATE ALLEGED DISAPPEARANCE OF EVIDENCE

An investigation of mysterious circumstances surrounding the arrest of the crew of the coast guard cutter 259, alleged to have been involved in the disappearance of more than 500 cases of liquor, seized off the coast of Laguna Beach, from the rum runner, SKS, last month, probably will be launched in San Francisco in the near future by Federal prohibition authorities.

frequently mistaken in their diagnosis of disease. In addition to this, medical theories change and remedies advocated and administered today are disproved and discarded tomorrow.

If hydrophobia were not a disease of great rarity, it would not be possible to hire a dog catcher or attendant at a city pound willing to risk his life in such an occupation. These men know from experience that there is no danger and they are not afraid.

The officers of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have frequently stated, publicly and privately, that while their agents are constantly bitten by dogs, many of them thought to be mad, they have never had a case of hydrophobia, nor seen a case of rabies and in the general manager's report for 1923 it is stated that during the last thirty years, they have handled approximately six million dogs and cats.

Hydrophobia scares suffering and hardship, not at the moment foreseen, upon hundreds of helpless little animals who are viewing with fear and distrust by all with whom they come in contact.

This changed demeanor on the part of friends and associates—it would be strange indeed were it not reflected in changed behavior on the part of the feared and suspected animal, and this changed behavior on the part of the dog, is then regarded as "peculiar" or "unnatural" and tends to increase the trepidation of all surrounding him.

Remember, your dog has only you. If you fall him, either through cowardice or ignorance, he is helpless. In this crisis, when others may be viewing him with alarm, pet and love him with added tenderness.

Remember that vaccination is harmful to him. If you are opposed to vaccination for yourself, be brave enough to stand opposed to it for him. Our city councilmen are all reasonable men. Let them know how you feel.

Give your dog food as pure as you yourself enjoy, all the cool water he wants to drink, keep his body free from fleas by frequent bathing, give him sufficient exercise and a constant demonstration of your love and confidence in him.

These measures, if his blood stream is not polluted by poisonous inoculations will insure "immunity" to disease, the immunity of a healthy body with strong resistive power, nature's own immunity—the only immunity possible to living creatures.

Let us use common sense! Let us refuse to be stampeded!

DISCIPLES OF NIETZSCHE' TO CONTINUE CLUB

Plans for carrying on the activities of the order were outlined by the members of the Santa Ana junior college Brotherhood of Bachelors at the closing meeting of the year held last night.

The order has justified its existence, it is believed, by the members. Criticism, adverse and favorable, has been hurled at the "disciples of Nietzsche" but active operation in all student activities has established the order in the college.

Henrik Van Rensselaer, grand exalted bachelor, is to continue as the head of the brotherhood until elections are held at the opening of the college in the fall.

Daily bulletins, spiced with wit and humor of events of the college, will be started from the first day of the fall semester. Kenneth Schroll, Ross Fields, James Smith, Donald Purvis and Maynard Ronin were named bulletin editors.

At registration time, the Bachelors are to aid the new students in enrolling. They will offer their help in directing the fresh about the junior college campus, according to decision reached.

are Ernest Schatz, Lars Holdin, P. C. Mersel, Bert Reed, Ernest Smith and Everett A. Luntsford. Members of the board of investigation, which has been acting since May 26, include Lt. Com. P. B. Easton, U. S. C. G., and Chief Boatswain Charles Lucas, executive officer at the naval base. The investigation committee was appointed by Com. L. C. Covell, commanding Coast Guard Section Base 17, San Pedro.

Investigators in San Francisco will endeavor to determine just how much the crew of the cutter knows about the alleged disappearance of some of the liquor.

According to Sheriff Jernigan, who received his report from Los Angeles, the coast guard crew reported that the raid on the SKS had been made at 8 a. m. This would give the boat about enough time to reach San Pedro by 9 a. m., when, according to reports, the boat did arrive in San Pedro. Jernigan contends that the raid was made in the afternoon and declares that the fact that the boat did not arrive in San Pedro until the next morning lends an air of mystery to the entire affair.

Reports of investigations in Los Angeles and San Diego also indicate a mysterious angle to the case. According to information received here today, one member of the coast guard crew, while maintaining that the raid was made at night, declares that he saw a green coupe on the bluffs at Laguna Beach.

Sheriff Jernigan today declared that a green car was on the bluff at the time of the raid and that the machine belonged to a Laguna Beach man. Jernigan said that he established the time of the raid by the fact that workers on the state highway, near Laguna, stopped to watch the raid, which was about a quarter mile from shore, just after finishing work for the day. Workers on the road are through with the day's labor at 4:30 p. m., according to Jernigan.

Still another angle was added to the case today, in San Diego, when Attorney John J. Monahan, of Los Angeles, demanded immediate release of Boatswain DeZeeuw and the six other members of the crew, charging that his clients are victims of a millionaire bootlegging ring and that, instead, of chasing the rum runners, the rum runners are chasing the rum chasers. Despite his demands, the men still are being held.

Investigation in San Pedro, it is claimed, disclosed that the 259 was under orders to search for the body of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, believed to have been drowned at Ocean Park.

Other members of the crew, who are being held for investigation,

RITES TOMORROW FOR MRS. BLANKEN

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m., tomorrow, in the Trinity Lutheran church, Sixth and Brown streets, Santa Ana, for Mrs. Elise Blanken, 61, who died Wednesday in her home in Tustin. The Rev. William Schnecko, pastor of the church, will conduct the services.

Mrs. Blanken is survived by her husband, Herman Blanken, and three sons, John, of Cisco, Texas, and Albert and Herman, of Tustin. Surviving also are a brother, Henry Jernigan, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Kraft, Orange, and Mrs. Louise Von Deyen, of Avery, Okla.

Elise Blanken was born in Hembergen, Germany, on March 13, 1865, and came to this country with her father, Henry Framke, and family when she was 18 years of age. In 1884, she moved to Nebraska, and a year later was married to Herman Blanken, in Kliowa, Neb. Four children were born to them, one dying in infancy in Gladstone, Neb. With her health impaired for 30 years, Mrs. Blanken, with her family, had moved to various points in the hope that a change would benefit her. She lived successively in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. In 1914, the family moved to Riverside and a year later established a residence in Santa Ana. The family moved to Tustin in 1919.

WILD MAN CLAD IN GUNNY SACK CAUSE OF STIR

Dr. Wills Asks Helen to Stay Out of Tourney

BERKELEY, Calif., June 18.—Dr. C. A. Wills, Berkeley physician and father of Helen, has requested his daughter to attend the Wimbledon matches as a spectator and writer, rather than as a participant.

"I cabled her earnestly not to play, for the sake of her health and the sake of her game," said the physician.

"As a surgeon, I know the physical let down that was the cause of anesthesia in an operation of this sort, no matter how skilfully done—and the French physicians performed a very skilful operation."

Dr. Wills cabled Helen yesterday, "Don't play at Wimbledon; dangerous. Write for syndicate."

Immediately jumped on his horse and went for help. When he returned with neighbors, there was no trace of the intruder.

The wild man evidently is living in the woods in the sparsely settled mountain districts, making occasional forages to various ranches for food.

JUNE MARRIAGES MAY SET RECORD

SACRAMENTO, June 18.—California's crop of June brides is going to be the best in the history of the state this year if marriage license totals bear out a forecast made by L. E. Ross, director of the state bureau of vital statistics.

Ross estimated that 6500 happy couples will march to the altar during the present month.

Last month, the number of weddings reached 6412, an increase of only eight over 1924.

While June has long been the months of brides and grooms, March seems to stand lowest in the esteem of those who tie the marital knot. Only 3541 marriages were performed in California in March of the present year, figures show.

Station Located Out Among Country Groves Builds Up Big Business

While not exactly out in the woods, R. A. Park was out in the country, right among the citrus and walnut groves, when he opened his place of business at First and Tustin. Walnut, orange and lemon groves surrounded him and there was little to lend support to the idea that in such a location a splendid business, such as he now enjoys, could be built up.

When this plan became known to the chief supporters of Serrano they moved to thwart it. At Laredo General Serrano was met by a delegation of leaders of political and labor elements backing his candidacy for president. Among these were Ernesto Prieto, head of the Allied Socialist parties of Mexico; General Jose Luis Amezcua and General Victor Gonzales. The welcoming delegation accompanied Serrano to Mexico City, and it is stated they talked him out of accepting Calles' offer of the governorship.

In connection with General Serrano's tentative candidacy for president, it is authoritatively stated he will have the support of former President Obregon and that Obregon has abandoned all intentions of becoming a candidate himself.

Serrano is popular with the army, and is said to be the idol of the more radical of the labor element.

Associated gas is accorded great credit by Park for its part in building up business. Motorists traveling the San Diego highway have the habit of stopping at the station and asking for Associated gas. "We have made a steady increase in our gasoline business since taking on the Associated product," said Park. "It meets the needs of the motorist in every way, and the producers have maintained the quality which distinguished this gas when first placed on the market. The results I have secured have convinced me that I made a wise move in joining the ranks of Associated stations."

STRENGTH GIVEN MURDER THEORY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Dried blood was found on the remnants of the clothing taken from the skeleton of Harry Mahoney, Hollister school boy.

Investigation conducted by Dr. Ernest Victor, city toxicologist, in revealing presence of blood on the boy's clothing gave further strength to the theory that young Mahoney did not meet death accidentally, as found by a Sonora coroner's jury, but was murdered last December, while blizzards were raging in the mountains of Tuolumne county, where he had gone on a hunting trip.

"My tests give evidence that the boy had a hemorrhage," declared Dr. Victor.

"It was a hemorrhage probably coming from an open wound, inflicted violently."

"I have not determined from what part of the body it came. I am now awaiting figures from Tuolumne county, taken after the body was found, to learn the position of the body and on this to draw my conclusions as to the location of the wound."

Parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mahoney, of Pacific Grove, had been awaiting the outcome of Dr. Victor's tests before continuing their investigation of what they have believed ever since their boy's body was found was cold-blooded murder.

FLAG QUESTION IN GERMANY IS YET UNSETTLED

BERLIN, June 18.—What German women think about the much debated flag question is told by Frau Katharina von Oehlmb, Germany's leading woman politician.

Violent controversy has ranged around a proposition to re-adopt the old black, white and red imperial colors in combination with a republican jack or shield of black, white and gold. Frau von Oehlmb does not think such a compromise is desirable.

"Tradition," she says, "has proved stronger than has been anticipated. True enough, most Germans are now republicans; but if all the flags in the country were to be counted, the black, white and red would be in the majority. Most people have not the money nowadays to buy new flags."

To re-adopt the old colors for the republic might be desirable, Frau von Oehlmb thinks, because it would deprive monarchists of a rallying standard of their own. "Let the people decide by plebiscite," she says, "whether to go back to the old colors again or stand definitely by the new republican banner. A majority should decide which one to adopt and all others should be scrapped."

HOWARD ELECTED BY 2046 MAJORITY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 18.—Charles Howard, of Chicago, won the presidency of the International Typographical union from James M. Lynch, of Rochester, N. Y. by 2046 votes; it was announced at union headquarters here, following completion of the official vote.

Howard polled 30,299 votes and Lynch 28,553 in the union election. Scott Brown, Los Angeles, won the first presidency by a vote of 28,351.

The closest contest of the election was for second vice president. Austin Hewson, New York, defeated George Bentley, also of New York, by 32 votes.

For secretary-treasurer, J. W. Hays, Minneapolis, received 30,663 votes and Woodruff Randolph, Chicago, 28,096.

WILD TALES OF SANTA ANA ARE HEARD IN N. Y.

Many are the wild tales that have been broadcast over the country about Santa Ana. Some have been wild and some have been wilder, but the wildest one apparently was carried back to Lil' Ol' New York by a recent visitor to Los Angeles, who evidently didn't stop to question the veracity of her informer.

George Raymer, secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, yesterday received a letter from a Mrs. C. H. Van Zandt, 239 West 103rd street, New York, which read as follows:

"Please send to me information of Santa Ana and Orange county towns. If you have any descriptive folders, with scenes of resorts and homes, they will be appreciated.

"A friend, who visited in Southern California last year, told me that in Santa Ana they arrest you for going 25 miles an hour and that even young girls are put in the same cell with tramps and Mexicans from Tia Juana. Is this true? I can hardly think so, but my friend says she knows it is so, for she heard a great deal of it in Los Angeles.

"Are there any good hotels there, where tourists can stop, while looking over the country around? My husband has heard favorable reports about your section and its orange orchards from acquaintances who have been in your city."

ORANGE

ORANGE, June 18.—In the absence of the president, Mrs. M. M. Fishback, at the final meeting of the year of the local chapter of P. E. O. held Wednesday, Mrs. E. H. Smith, vice president, presided.

No plans were laid and no particular business transacted, the members devoting the meeting principally to visiting. The next meeting of the organization will be a 12 o'clock breakfast at the home of Mrs. Alfred Higgins, October 6.

Following the closing of schools in Long Beach yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Meadows, teachers at the Edison junior high school, came to Orange to spend a few days with the parents of Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Meadows, 231 North Grand street before registering for a six weeks' course of study at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles. DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 63

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monocello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA—

—BY REDNER

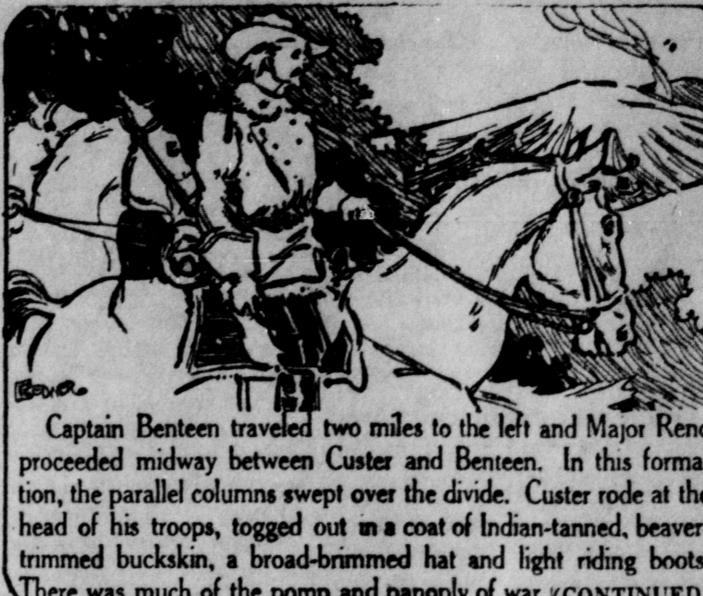

On June 17, on the Rosebud, Crook battled with the Sioux. He fought all day and then wisely withdrew, having struck a home's nest. Then the Sioux moved to the next stream west, the Little Big Horn. Unaware of Crook's defeat, Terry sent Custer, with the Seventh Cavalry, to scout along the Rosebud, planning to rejoin him at the juncture of the Big Horn and the Little Big Horn.

On June 24 Custer's scouts informed him that the Indians were located on the west bank of the Little Big Horn, and Custer prepared to attack.

In the hope of trapping the Indians by strategy, he formed his troops into three divisions, keeping five companies and splitting six between Major Reno and Captain Benteen.

Captain Benteen traveled two miles to the left and Major Reno proceeded midway between Custer and Benteen. In this formation, the parallel columns swept over the divide. Custer rode at the head of his troops, togged out in a coat of Indian-tanned, beaver-trimmed buckskin, a broad-brimmed hat and light riding boots. There was much of the pomp and panoply of war (CONTINUED)

They Want a Job!

Vowing that home-making is an occupation as much as anything else, the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs have petitioned Uncle Sam to so list it on his census returns. They complain that housewives are booked as persons of "no occupation."

What they really are, for the most part, is people of "no remunerative occupation." Even in this day and age when wives are criticized for being "bridge-playing parasites," there are many who are family nurses, house cleaners, bakers, paper hangers, nursemaids, governesses, social hostesses, cooks, maids, caterers, and are paid with "board and room," while papa holds the pocketbook and doles out his nickels with a righteous air.

"I'd Lash Her!"

The gentle and amiable chairman of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs opines that all damsels who wear one-piece bathing suits should be tied to a public whipping post and lashed. The lady harks backs to the good old days when maidens were afraid that men would see their calves. She dramatically states that today girls are afraid men won't see their knees. She talks rapidly about "the preservation of femininity"—to all of which I explode "rubbish!" and refuse to even begin my argument about girls of today having something larger with which to concern themselves than whether or no a silly male sees their calves!

That Reminds Me!

Of a story told by Judge Florence E. Allen of the Ohio Supreme court, the only woman supreme court judge in the country. Judge Allen tells of the lawyer, a gentleman of the old school, whom she called upon when looking for a job after her graduation from law school. The lawyer gazed out of the window upon a light flurry of snow and seriously said, "Miss Allen, it would be painful to me to have a woman in my office because I should not like to send her even to the courthouse on a day like this."

NO. 17—THE PINK TICKETS GO HOME

At this the Dream-Maker-Man clapped his hands three times and a very queer servant appeared.

"So you want me to help to find Maker Man. "That certainly is your china elephant and toy odd! I have sent many kinds of dreams to people on the earth about fishes that walked and cows that flew and monkeys on wheels and butterflies that could sing, but never, never, never did I hear of elephants with roses on them. Poor things! No wonder he ran away!"

At this the Dream-Maker Man clapped his hands three times and a very queer servant appeared.

This person had a bill like a bird, ears like a rabbit, a buttoned shoe on one foot, a laced shoe on the other foot, and he kept his hands in a muff.

"Ab wist grouch a tor check," said the Dream-Maker Man.

"Nip sur rant a boo choo," said the queer servant, making a bow and disappearing.

"That's moon language," explained the Dream-Maker Man. "And that's Blink, one of the moon people. He's a very good cook and makes fudge to suit the queen's taste. He keeps his hands in a muff so they will stay clean. He's gone now to bring us something to eat. You must be hungry after so long a journey; and as we have another long journey ahead, I thought it would be better to have some sandwiches and cakes and lemonade."

"I'm hungry, thank you," said Nick politely.

"So am I," said Nancy.

At that the door opened and in came Blink with the lunch.

There seems no trend in favor of long hair, and the most smartly dressed women are closely shingled. Occasionally part of the hair is allowed to be long enough to be worn in biscuits over the ears.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Raspberries, cereal, thin cream, crisp boiled bacon, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Scalloped cabbage and tomatoes, brown bread, rhubarb bread pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Swiss steak, mashed potatoes, savory green beans, radishes and onions, strawberry charlotte, graham bread, milk, coffee.

These menus are planned to be nourishing, attractive, easy to prepare and serve and at the same time economical. With the exception of the dinner dessert the dishes can be prepared at a low cost. As many housewives feel justified in serving a more elaborate dessert to their families when the main part of the meal is inexpensive, the recipe for strawberry charlotte follows:

Strawberry Charlotte

One cup crushed berries and juice; 1 lemon, 1 cup sugar, tablespoon granulated gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup boiling water, whites of 2 eggs, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 dozen lady fingers.

The strained juice of berries can be used if preferred. Soften gelatine in cold water. Add boiling water and sugar to berry pulp and juice and bring to the boiling point. Remove from fire and stir in softened gelatine. Stir until dissolved. When cool stir in lemon juice. Let stand until mixture begins to jell. Then beat with a whisk until frothy. Beat in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Whip cream until firm and fold into first mixture. Line a mold with lady fingers split in halves and choose ripe berries. Carefully turn in prepared mixture and chill three hours or longer.

YOUR EYES

If you are tired, your eyes will be tired and if you are well in your thirties, they will look old also.

If you are ill, your eyes will be dull, though not all to the expression of the fact. If the eyes themselves are in poor health, all this will be true even though you, physically, may be in perfect health.

Take the best care of your eyes always, you want them to be strong and bright and nice looking your entire life. You know all the rules: don't work with the light in your fact, but let it fall over your work; don't strain the eyes with a poor light, or try to read to the very last minute of daylight. Don't—this is an important bit of information that doctors and eye specialists neglect to give—don't live with bad odors. A room with red wall paper will have a terrible effect on your eyesight and your disposition if you are in it very much.

Bathe the eyes now and then with boracic acid solution. Half an ounce of boracic acid powder to 15 ounces of hot water is the best formula. Use an eyecup, so you get the water over the eyeballs as will the lids. Weak tea used as a compress is a wonderful thing for destroying traces of tears and making the eyes feel fresh again. To be best, the tea should be poured off the leaves after it has brewed not more than a minute and a half. A hot compress of this, left over the eyelids for ten minutes, is splendid.

It is an excellent idea to bathe the eyes in an eyecup with pure water or the useful boracic lotion.

STRENGTHENS THE PARTY

The Republican party as a whole, and the Orange County part of it, especially, is to be congratulated upon the interest and enthusiasm of a large group of young Republicans who tonight, in Fullerton, will perfect the organization of the "Young Men's Republican Club of Orange County," the initial meeting having been held in this city a week or more ago.

It is to be hoped, and may confidently be expected, that this club of young Republicans will not follow in the footsteps of some of its more elderly predecessors of recent years. But, on second thought, there is no danger of that, because most of its predecessors of recent years haven't left any footprints deep enough to follow.

At all events let us hope that the Young Men's Republican club will inject new life and stronger life in that part of the Grand Old Party that inhabits Orange county. Not that Orange county Republicans are more apathetic than those of other counties where the Democrats are in a hopeless minority, but the Register is particularly interested in Orange county Republicans and feels itself particularly guilty.

Republicans everywhere need pepping up. Through lack of issues and consequent lack of interest and incentive, we have grown stale which is bad for the party and worse for the country, for the two-party system of government is the very heart and soul of Democracy.

And whatever pepping up is done should be done from within, not from without. Let us pep up ourselves as a matter of principle and not permit candidates for office to pep us up as a matter of personal profit to themselves.

Those interested in Republican success, therefore, ought to encourage Republican organization, such as that to be perfected tonight. It is through such organizations that we will be able to see to it that Republican nominees are successful at the polls. It is vital to our industries that we keep our senatorial and congressional representation at Washington Republican, and that we maintain our party organization in California through the election of Republican nominees for those state offices that are classed as partisans.

AROUND THE WORLD

John Goldstrom, latest contestant for the globe-circling record, is said to have failed. Having to wait for a slow trans-Siberian train, he missed the only boat that would have brought him across the Pacific in time to win the race. He has broken certain minor records, but the round-the-world record of John Henry Mears in 35 days, 21 hours and 35 minutes, will stand for the present, as it has stood already for 13 years.

Perhaps it doesn't matter. The public, formerly excited about such ventures, has been rather passive about this. People are used to speed nowadays, and actual records seem of less importance, because it is always a foregone conclusion that somebody else will break them before long.

Besides, the public is better aware than it used to be that there is considerable sham in these "races around the world." They are not what they seem.

The earth, as all our geographers say, is about 25,000 miles around, and none of these speed-record seekers travel anywhere near that far. They avoid belting the earth by going as far north as possible, following parallels far shorter than the equator.

It is something like drawing a circular pencil mark around an apple near the stem and saying that line is drawn "around the apple." By some procedure followed by these record-makers, a polar explorer might fly on a circular course around the North Pole, a hundred miles from the Pole, making a total flight of a little over 300 miles, and then say he had "flown around the world." That could be done easily in two hours.

COLLEGE DEVELOPMENT

A news dispatch from New Haven, Conn., the other day carried the glad tidings that when Yale men study least their grades are highest. That was the headline summary of the facts. Further conclusions may be drawn from the statistics published in the story.

Freshmen study an average of 23.3 hours a week and get an average grade of 75.3; sophomores average 20.8 hours of study and a 76.4 grade; the junior average is 19.5 hours of study and a grade of 78.3; seniors average 18.3 hours of study and an 80.5 grade.

This suggests several things. Apparently poor students are weeded out early in the course. Apparently, too, the students that remain learn how to study more effectively and develop a better grasp of the subject matter in hand. Perhaps the courses offered to upper classmen are of greater interest and inspire keener enthusiasm than those for freshmen.

If the statistics do mean these things, it is an excellent sign. Undoubtedly many other schools would show a similar tendency. It ought to indicate that college years are years of intellectual growth, as they should be, rather than years wholly devoted to merry-making and idling as some of the harsher critics would like us to believe, though they know their criticism is one in which the whole is judged by the actions of a few.

NEW GOAL IN SOCIAL WORK

Social service used to be all "charity" in the narrow sense of the term. Alleviating the miseries of the poor was its chief aim. Even a brief perusal of the speeches made at the Social Workers' conference in Cleveland reveals what a big change has come over social service in recent years. Said one speaker:

"The lines of class and other superficial distinctions have broken down. We find that the children of the well-to-do, even as those of the poor, call for the attention of the visiting teacher, of the juvenile court, that the paying patient may be just as much in need of medical or social service as the free patient, that the child of the very rich may even be malnourished no less than the child of the poverty-stricken family."

So today the goal is more truly "social," a condition in which "every individual becomes the best he can be and the community, the finest and fullest expression of social life that it can be." There is less violent effort at reform and more effort to get individuals to work in harmony with economic and social laws.

Indian women seem to be gaining prominence. Two oil heiresses of the Osage tribe have been killed for their money.

The Race Track Gambling Bill

Riverside Enterprise

In a communication received yesterday by The Enterprise from the "Racing Board Committee," of 240 Montgomery street, San Francisco, the statement is made that "the prospects of California, birthplace of many world's famous race horses, having racing again, is being received with enthusiasm wherever the news reaches that an initiative measure is going on the November ballot to make possible the revival of the 'sport of kings.'

The letter goes on to say that "Southern California, always alert to attract tourists, is anxious to have a limited number of racing days each winter, thereby offsetting the pilgrimage to Florida where racing has been a strong drawing card."

Of course it was hoped that the communication would be printed as a piece of news, thereby giving the race track gambling bill favorable publicity. The Enterprise is glad to give the gambling initiative measure publicity, but not the kind desired, for it believes if there ever was a vicious, disreputable proposition put upon the ballots of California, it is this race track law.

Decent, law-abiding citizens of California do not desire legalized gambling of any kind to exist within the state. Nor does Southern California seek tourists of the type who are attracted to the betting rings of race tracks.

The proposed law to legalize race track betting ought to be defeated by a heavy majority, and citizens who value the welfare of the state will work with that end in view from now until election day.

Migratory Bird Bill

Oakland Tribune

It is too bad the senate has concluded it has no time this session to give to the migratory bird bill. Nothing short of a pitiable lack of understanding can be responsible for the failure to act promptly and effectively on this matter, which, if understood, could be settled with a roll-call.

The purpose of the bill was to make effective the obligation of the existing treaty with Great Britain by the establishment of migratory bird refuges, by the furnishing in perpetuity of homes for migratory birds, the furnishing of adequate protection, and the establishment of public shooting grounds.

While the bill, naturally, was supported by lovers of wild life, it was not one aimed in any sense to prevent the killing of wild birds by sportsmen. No one's "rights" are stepped upon, and there are no special interests served.

In decreasing numbers the migratory birds make their ways north and south. It may be too much to say, as do some of the proponents of the bill, that these birds will soon be exterminated. The fact remains that those who oppose the measure exhibit indifference to a question which is of considerable importance. The opportunity was present to act with Canada toward an agreement which would work for the preservation and increase of wild life, and the opportunity was passed by. It may be a long time in coming again, and it may not come at all.

More Highways Sought

Pasadena Star-News

Ambitious promotion of highway construction and maintenance is being given by the convention, at Santa Monica, of the United States Good Roads association and the Bankhead National Highway association, meeting concurrently. These two organizations adopted a resolution calling upon the federal government to construct four transcontinental highways, in addition to the present federal aid to state highways.

California has direct and deep interest in this proposal, as two or three of the projected overland roads would have termini in this state. Opening of additional transcontinental highways would be of immense material advantage to California. Stimulus would be given to automobile touring across the continent, with this state and other Pacific West states as the objectives. Coming overland by auto is becoming more and more popular. All that is needed to encourage it is additional improved highways.

California thus stands to be benefited greatly, should the urging of these good-roads organizations bear fruit at Washington.

A system of federal highways would be very useful, in facilitating mail deliveries; in giving farmers easier access to markets; and in improving social conditions in the agricultural sections thus tending to allay discontent among young folk on the farms.

Health Topics

WATER POLLUTION INCREASES

Streams and lake pollution has steadily increased in the United States in the last few years with our rapidly increasing population until it is extremely difficult, in most cases impossible, to get a source of water that is safe to drink without being purified.

In many cases the contamination is becoming so great that if there should be any material increase in this contamination, it will no longer be possible to purify the water except at a cost which is prohibitive of its use.

Fortunately, many of the factors responsible for stream pollution are controllable, tending to make an otherwise bad situation more hopeful.

The Public Health Service desires to point out the need for serious consideration of problem of steadily increasing importance, a problem which this service has for years studied in great detail.

At present, the subject of stream pollution is engrossing the studious attention of many scientists. These workers are seeking diligently to reduce the contamination of natural water courses.

So far, progress in combating the conditions responsible for pollution have been slow, because many people fail to realize how the problem affects them individually and collectively.

Officers of state and municipal governments are constantly seeking accurate information on this subject so that appropriate action may be taken.

The lines of class and other superficial distinctions have broken down. We find that the children of the well-to-do, even as those of the poor, call for the attention of the visiting teacher, of the juvenile court, that the paying patient may be just as much in need of medical or social service as the free

Truly a Rare Bit of Furniture

Commencement Time

Pasadena Star-News

Graduates by thousands, in toto, are receiving degrees from colleges, technical schools and universities throughout the land. And graduates by tens of thousands are finishing their course in high schools of the land. It is graduation season everywhere. Commencements have right of way. Only the June weddings are rival to the commencement for public interest.

Do not too many Americans accept education—popular, higher and specialized education—too much as a matter of course, as though the means of education always had flowered throughout this land and other lands?

Broad, comprehensive education has not long been an established system in this country. In the early days of the Republic, the public school was one of the crudest, and high schools were unknown. There were few colleges and universities, and higher education was restricted to but a few men, favored by fortune and circumstance. Women were not admitted to colleges or universities. There was no co-education then. Higher education was not for women. Indeed, it was well along into the nineteenth century, before the doors of institutions of higher learning were opened to women.

Systematic education in this country has been a growth—an evolution. It had crude, inchoate beginning. It has developed rapidly. There are defects yet. But there also are many excellencies. Let not all the criticism be adverse. Take cognizance of the great strides made toward perfection.

Education, as it is disseminated, gives color and complexion to national thought and national life. Ideals of each succeeding generation are the product, largely, of school, college and university. Into all avenues of economic endeavor; into business, into industry, into the trades, into the professions, education extends its comprehensive influence.

So, hail these commencements with respect. They signify much. They speak of influences that reach away down to the very roots of the tree of democracy and intelligent self-government. They reflect the ideals and standards of this age. They express also forewarnings of the Nation's future, in terms of prophecy. They open the portals and permit a pre-viewing of the mighty generation that is to succeed the wonderful present generation.

Worth While Verse

HANDS

Dear tiny dimpled baby hands,
So helpless, soft and sweet to kiss,
That bind us with their tender bands,
Each finger touch an added bliss.

A little dirty childish hand
No longer pink as tinted shell.
All grime from pies of mud and sand,
And cuts a mother's kiss makes well.

A maiden fair with snow white hand
And dainty tapered finger tips,
Awaiting wedlock's golden band,
And kiss from love's caressing lips.

Dear hands now grown toil-worn and old,
Dear busy hands at last at rest,
Some other hands will gently fold
Them on the mother's quiet breast.

SING A SONG OF SYLLABLES
Dedicated to the Sky Pilot of the Lions

There are words we use with children, others we employ with seers.

There are words of tender meaning for our sweethearts—pretty words!

There are words of strength and import which a golfer needs to know.

And a group that's for the owner of a car that will not go.

Some are sweet and some are pretty, some are full of stern abuse.

But the dictionary bristles with the words I'd like to use.

There is histrionicism—tell me, don't you think that's good?

And indefatigable, which I'd master if I could.

The medulla oblongata is a fascinating phrase

If I could use it glibly, it would brighten all my days.

Then pulchritude is wonderful in any land or clime

How glad I am to weave it in this simple little rhyme!

Then there's eleemosynary which is such a gorgeous word—

(Though its use in conversation I have seldom ever heard.)

And idiosyncratic and ichthyosurian

Would be of untold value to a humble writing man.

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE

"Never seek for thieves where there is nothing to steal" is an ancient proverb which we can quote and feel secure at the Little Gray House, but it doesn't apply to all homes, as witness the sad tale of a certain prominent woman of the city. We only regret that you can't hear her tell the tale, for she is that rare person, a born raconteur, witty and eloquent.

She had been out for the evening, and had to return to the house alone, as her husband was on a two weeks' northern trip. The young people with whom she returned home, said goodnight and continued on their way. She entered the house to be seized by that feeling we have all experienced—that someone else had been there in her absence. She went from room to room, switching on lights as she moved. A door she had left closed, was ajar. . . . In the kitchen, a glass stood at the sink where someone had quenched his thirst. . . . Chairs were moved out of their places. . . .

Summoning all her courage, she moved up the salway. The door to the attic was open!
